Congressmen Back Byrd After Slurs From White House

By JACK BELL
Washington, May 10 (AP)—The reported crack by President Truman that there are too many Byrds in Congress spurred Senator Byrd (D-Va.) and his friends to arm themselves today against a possible purge movement.

Asserting that "if the president wants to purge me from the Senate, I'll be around when the purging starts," Byrd said he intends to keep fighting the slash in spending he doesn't think the president wants.

Gilbert Harrison, National Commander of the American Veterans Committee, quoted the president after a White House conference yesterday. Harrison said:

"He told us there were too many Byrds in Congress. He wants us to see that congressmen are elected who are able to see these things in the terms of national interest, rather than local interest and to make large plans rather than small plans."

Repeating, Byrd said: "I'm going to continue to make some small money plans that the president won't like at all. And I've got an interest in a big plan, too. I'm going to see to it, if I can, that the Senate doesn't confirm the nomination of Mon Wallgren to head the National Security Resources Board. He's definitely not big enough for that job."

Tries To Crack Whip
Byrd furnished the necessary Democratic vote when Republicans on the Senate Armed Services Committee bottled up the Wallgren appointment weeks ago.

Since that time, the Virginian has not been on good political terms with the president, who has said repeatedly that he wants Wallgren confirmed for the post. The Byrd incident was regarded as demonstrating a new irritation on the part of the president at those within his party who do not go along with his legislative program.

Recently, Mr. Truman tried to crack the patronage whip on members of Congress who oppose his measures. His indication that those who don't go along won't have a say in doing out federal jobs seemed to have been modified later by statements of other Democratic officials.

Selons Don't Like Truman's Choice of Atomic Scientist

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Some dissatisfaction was reported today among members of the senate-house atomic committee over President Truman's appointment of Gordon Dean as atomic energy commissioner.

A member of the committee said privately he and others were disappointed that the president had not chosen a businessman for one of the vacancies on the commission.

Dean was named to the agency along with Henry De Wolf Smyth, atomic scientist.

Although there was criticism in congress over release of Smyth's report on atomic energy developments several years ago, committee members said they foresee no opposition to his confirmation as a commission member.

Defenders Claim Shanghai Victory

By FRED HAMPSON
Shanghai, May 10 (AP)—A central news agency dispatch from Hankow today said the battle for the "defense" of that mid-Yangtze industrial city started yesterday.

The agency said 600 Communists drove into Liangkulow about 20 miles north of Hankow. The attackers suffered 100 casualties, said the agency, but were reinforced.

Another dispatch from Hankow quoted a government army source as saying a movement for a regional peace in the area was "in full swing."

Earlier, a Nationalist garrison communique here claimed a "decisive victory" at Liuhou, 30 miles northwest of Shanghai.

Panfish Size Limit Lifted In Michigan

Law Effective In Fall If Governor Signs It

Lansing, May 10 (AP)—If Governor Williams approves, Michigan fishermen next fall can catch panfish of any size without looking over their shoulders for the conservation officer.

The Senate last night put its approval on a House-passed bill making general changes in the sport fishing law. It will not go into effect until early fall if the governor signs it.

The most important change eliminated the six-inch minimum size limit for panfish—Perch, bluegills, rock bass, crappies, sunfish and the like.

The bill also requires purchasers of trout stamps to sign their name on the stamps to cancel them.

Other changes allow the conservation director to permit spearing of carp, dog fish and other "noxious" fish on inland lakes between May 1 and 31 and July 15 and Aug. 15, and give the conservation director power to designate which waters may be fished for rainbows in the fall.

Dealing with other House-approved fish bills, the Senate voted to forbid net fishing in Lake Superior within half a mile of the mouth of the Two Hearted river, and permits use of net within half a mile of the public docks under ice in St. James harbor at Beaver Island.

Pope Pius Receives Princess Margaret In Historic Event

Rome, May 10 (AP)—A Pope of the Roman Catholic church and a member of Britain's Royal House met today for the first time in more than a quarter of a century.

Pope Pius XII will receive privately Princess Margaret Rose in private audience in his personal library.

Afterwards the Princess will visit the Vatican museum's Sistene chapel to see Michelangelo's "last judgement."

Some English Protestants had asked King George to prevent her audience with the Pope.

The last meeting between the Pope and British royalty was 26 years ago when the Princess's grandparents King George V and Queen Mary were received by Pope Pius XI, predecessor of the present Pontiff.

Chicagoan Acquitted Of Murdering Wife In Tussle For Gun

Chicago, May 10 (AP)—After deliberating 23 minutes a jury in criminal court yesterday acquitted Ora Lee Hord, 41, of a charge of murdering his wife.

The state charged that Hord shot his wife, Flossie, 39, in their bedroom.

Hord claimed she was shot accidentally while he and Peter Sully, 33, were struggling for a gun. Judge Alan E. Ashcraft refused to permit the state to place seven-year-old Roger Hord, the couple's son, on the witness stand.

The boy had told differing stories at two hearings—one that "My daddy shot my mummy" and the other "Daddy didn't do it. It was the other man."

AIRLIFT CREW HURT
Berlin, May 10 (AP)—A British civilian aircraft plane crashed in the Soviet zone early today on a return flight from Berlin. The crew of four survived, but two were reported seriously injured.

A government counter-offensive was started in that area yesterday. Despite Nationalist claims, however, the Liuhou action from this vantage point appeared small.

The communique said the "exact extent of the Nationalist victory is now being ascertained."

Liuhou has not been mentioned in recent communiques. It is a hamlet on a small stream entering the Yangtze from the south bank a short distance from Kunshan.

The northern fork of a Red two pronged drive toward Shanghai has been pointed at Kunshan for a week.

Nationalist forces also counter-attacked west of Kunshan yesterday, driving back a Communist force. The garrison asserted 200 casualties were inflicted on the Reds in this action.

The newspaper Sin Wan Pao said the Nationalist Garrison at Hankow, China's Pittsburgh on the Middle Yangtze, had ordered non-combatants to withdraw to Linling, far to the south on the Canton-Hankow railroad.

The same newspaper said Hankow authorities had ordered ships in that area to pull upstream about 100 miles by Thursday when a blockade will be imposed on the river south of Hankow.

Membership In UN Assured For Israel

New Jewish Nation Wins Out In Test Vote

By GEORGE PALMER
Lake Success, May 10 (AP)—

Israel's admission to the United Nations appeared to be almost a sure thing today.

The new Jewish nation won the big test vote by a three-to-one majority late yesterday. The general assembly's special 58-nation political committee endorsed the Israeli bid by 33-11. Thirteen countries abstained and one was absent.

If the full assembly follows the lead of its committee then the year-old Eastern Mediterranean nation will become the 59th member of the world organization.

The final assembly decision, requiring a two-thirds majority of the members voting is expected tomorrow or Thursday.

The test vote came on a joint resolution sponsored by the United States, Australia, Canada, Guatemala, Haiti, Panama, and Uruguay. Among those voting for the proposal were: the entire Soviet Bloc of six countries and Argentina, China, Cuba, Norway, New Zealand, Mexico and the Netherlands.

Afghanistan, Burma, India, Iran and Pakistan joined with the Arabs in opposing Israel's admission. Among those abstaining were Britain, France, Belgium, Sweden, Greece, Turkey and Denmark.

Dead Boy Brought Back To Life Still Alive At Pasadena

Pasadena, Calif., May 10 (AP)—Larry K. Packer, four, "brought back to life" after he had stopped breathing 10 minutes, is holding his own, although critical, hospital attendants said today.

The youngster, who suffered probable skull fractures when struck by a car Saturday, was given artificial respiration by doctors who refused to concede the child was dead. The treatment plus injection of a heart stimulant started him breathing again.

Physicians explained the boy stopped breathing because of extreme shock and fat embolism escaping from bone marrow. They added it has been unsafe to move him for x-rays.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Mack Page of Mojave, Calif., have been at his bedside constantly.

Suicides Take Four In Famed St. Louis Old Brewery Family

St. Louis, May 10 (AP)—Charles A. Lemp, 77, member of a famous old St. Louis brewery family in which there have been three suicides, was found shot to death today. Police said he apparently killed himself.

Lemp, a bachelor, was alone in an 18-room mansion in which he was born. His father shot himself in 1904, a sister in 1920, and a brother in 1922.

Their brewery went out of business in 1922.

Democrats Join Republican Move To Trim Expenses

Possibility Of Cutting Excise Taxes Hinted

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Democrats and Republicans alike in Congress today support today behind a reported recommendation by President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers for a cut in government spending.

The council was said to have held that because of unsettled business conditions it would be safer to trim spending than to try any sharp tax increase.

Responsible officials said the economists went even further—to suggest the possibility of cutting some excise taxes and of delaying six months a social security payroll tax boost scheduled for July 1.

Each of these proposals got considerable backing from the lawmakers.

President Stands Pat
But the final decision on which way to turn in the face of obviously increasing financial pressure on the nation's economy rests with Mr. Truman. Thus far he has refused to back down on his repeated demands for $4,000,000,000 in new taxes.

The economic advisers were said to have urged the President to accept a "lesser goal" than this.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance committee said the advisory report—delivered to the White House last week but not yet formally made public—confirms the position he has taken.

"If the national income is shrinking because business is shrinking, it would be nonsense to clasp more taxes on a falling economy," George told a reporter. "Our only hope is to cut expenditures."

Similarly, Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee, said he is "encouraged" by the advisory report.

"We should cut expenses all possible," he said, adding, "I agree that a big tax increase might have a harmful effect on business."

Commenting on the report, Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath observed: "I'm the kind who thinks that when you hire a doctor you ought to pay pretty close attention to his advice."

Hazards Ahead
The economic advisers were reported to have found that no major part of the nation's economy

Babich Bound Over In Milwaukee Court For Slaying Girl, 16

Milwaukee, May 10 (AP)—Milton Babich, 19-year-old former high school honor student, was bound over to municipal court today for trial on a charge of first degree murder.

Babich is accused of slaying 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham, the pretty sister of his wife, Kathleen. The state charges that Babich shot Patricia Feb. 10 after she had threatened to disclose Kathleen was pregnant.

Civil Judge Thaddeus Pruss ordered Babich held for trial at the conclusion of a two day preliminary hearing in district court. Pruss ruled that Milton's constitutional rights had not been violated during some 45 hours of intermittent questioning by police.

DEAN DIES IN SLEEP
Detroit, May 10 (AP)—Dr. Lent D. Upson, Wayne university dean and former head of the Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research, died in his sleep last night. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Dickers Started In Ford Walkout

Detroit, May 10 (AP)—The Ford strike idling 65,000 men—and threatening as many more—was carried to the peace table today.

On the sixth day of the "speed-up" deadlock management and the CIO United Auto Workers sought a solution together.

Their initial negotiations were set for 2 p. m. (EST).

In keeping with other events of this first major labor battle in a year in the auto industry, the agreement to negotiate came yesterday with dramatic suddenness.

Young President Henry Ford II, acting swiftly, accepted a proposal for talks from President Walter Reuther of the union. The two acted as strike-caused

Gov. Williams Tries To Awaken Interest In State Income Tax

Lansing, May 10 (AP)—As the Legislature prepared to consider the state's budget for next year, Governor Williams today tried to reawaken its interest in his proposed four per cent corporation income tax.

Williams declared in a formal statement that the state will be $60,000,000 in the red next year if all budget cuts now proposed by the Legislature are put into effect.

"They have cut the University of Michigan by $813,685, for example, and Michigan State College by $741,746," he said. "For the University this would mean holding the amount per student to about $500, which was the amount provided in 1928. By comparison, the University of Illinois gets about $1,000 per student from the state, the Universities of California and Indiana and Purdue University get more than $600 per student and the University of Missouri gets $800 per student. The effects of the proposed cut on Michigan State would be similar."

(When Williams spoke of reducing the institutional budgets, he meant reductions below what his budget office recommended. Both schools would get more under the proposed bills than they did this year.)

Prayer Helps Jury In Colorado Court

Boulder, Colo., May 10 (AP)—A jury which said it sought divine guidance convicted Joe Walker in the rape slaying of coed Theresa Foster.

The verdict of second degree murder carries a penalty of 10 years to life in prison.

Walker only shook his head when he heard the verdict late yesterday. That was just an hour short of three days from the time the jury took the case against the 32-year-old metal worker.

In Santa Monica, Calif., Walker's wife said she refuses "to give up hope for Joe until after the case has been appealed." She termed "very ridiculous" a question as to whether she plans to collect the $10,000 reward offered by the University of Colorado regents for the arrest and conviction of the killer of the 18-year-old coed.

Walker was arrested at their home near here 12 days after the slaying November 9 on a lonely lover's lane. His wife told police she was suspicious of bloodstains in his car and on his clothing.

Walker admitted dumping the girl's body under a bridge. But he said a blond boyfriend of Miss Foster killed her after beating Walker unconscious. His statement was read to the jury but he did not join the parade of 72 witnesses to the stand in the 15-day trial.

Bill to Nationalize British Steel And Iron Plants Passed
London, May 10 (AP)—A hotly-disputed bill to nationalize most of Britain's iron and steel industry went to the House of Lords today. It was passed last night by the House of Commons.

The Lords planned to bring the measure—main item in the Labor government's socialist program—to early consideration. It is expected generally the upper chamber will riddle it with amendments, and return it to commons which then will restore it virtually to present form, to become law.

Socialists call the bill an "attack on the heart of capitalism," because control of iron and steel means control essentially of British manufacturing, from bicycles to battleships.

Lifer Walks Away At Jackson Prison

Jackson, Mich., May 10 (AP)—A Southern Michigan prison trusty who walked away from his job at the home of Deputy Warden Ralph Benson was sought by police here today.

William H. Davis, 45, also known as Gerald Staughton, had been assigned to do odd jobs at Benson's home near the prison here. He disappeared late yesterday afternoon.

Davis was serving a life term on a first degree murder conviction. He was sentenced from Montcalm county on Aug. 4, 1930. He had been Benson's servant, both at Marquette and Jackson, for approximately 20 years.

Pennsylvania Pike Truck Jam Ended

Irwin, Pa., May 10 (AP)—Truck traffic on approaches to the Pennsylvania turnpike returned to normal today following a hectic night in which nearly 100 vehicles were checked for overloads.

Nearly 100 big vehicles jammed traffic as they waited attention from a squad of 25 state policemen on a weighing detail. The truckers, some of whom had been parked nearby for days to protest the state's 45,000 pound weight limitation, all decided to get weighed at once on troopers' portable scales.

Berlin Excited Over Ending Of Long Blockade

By THOMAS A. REEDY
Berlin, May 10 (AP)—At one minute past midnight Thursday flagbedecked traffic will end the epic of blockaded Berlin.

That's 5:01 p. m., EST, Wednesday. So far there hasn't been a hitch in final arrangements.

Gen. V. I. Chukov, Soviet commander in Germany and the Western Powers both have ordered that transport, trade and communication services between their zones resume at that time.

Things will revert to the way they were on March 1, 1948, when the blockade began.

Sixteen freight trains will move into the city daily. Highways will be open. The Soviet's won't—or at least say they won't demand travel permits. They also say they'll not try to search Allied baggage.

Mail service will be resumed. Western Berlin's mayor Ernest Reuther ordered the black, red and gold flag of the new west German Republic be flown on street cars and buses.

The Berlin flag will be draped over other buses which will speed to the west German cities of Hanover, Hamburg and Frankfurt.

The first day, 10 trainloads of coal and six others of fresh potatoes and consumer goods are scheduled to move into the city, which has been supplied by the air lift for ten months.

Twelve thousand tons of supplies are to go into the city daily—just about the same figure the air lift reached on its best day.

Roanoke, Va., Police Hunt Church Killer

High School Girl Found Clubbed To Death

Roanoke, Va., May 10 (AP)—Roanoke police threw "every available resource" into the search for the murderer of Dana Marie Weaver. The 16-year-old Jefferson high school junior was found slain yesterday in the kitchen of Christ Episcopal church here.

"There's just a whole world of things we've got to check on," said E. A. Griggs, lieutenant of detectives of the Roanoke police.

"There are so many angles—we're throwing every available man, every available resource behind this case. It was a particularly brutal one."

Early today, however, there was no clue to the identity of the person who clubbed the girl in the head with a pop bottle early Sunday night while the church's rector and members of the Young People's Service League attended a picnic at nearby Calloway.

Authorities worked on the theory the girl probably was attacked when she surprised an intruder in the church. She had gone to the church for the young people's meeting, unaware the group was on the outing.

Policeman Finds $12,000 in Gutter

New York, May 10 (AP)—A big blob of grease fell on the windshield of a police car from an el track today forcing Patrolman Gilbert Orr to get out in the rain.

He spotted a pink rag in a gutter and picked it up to use to wipe off the grease. He noticed the rag was knotted at four corners and felt heavy.

He opened it and out spilled an even $12,000 in cash. There were twenty-eight $100 bills, seventy-five $50's, and many smaller ones. Police high-ups were mystified by the find. No such loss had been reported anywhere in the metropolis recently.

Grand Rapids Mayor Gets Manager Fired

Grand Rapids, May 10 (AP)—Frank H. Goebel was out of a job as Grand Rapids' city manager today.

The city commission voted 4-3 last night to fire him. Immediately afterwards, they appointed George H. Kraneberg, assistant superintendent of parks, to fill the post at an annual salary of $10,000.

It was a victory for Mayor George Welsh, who had been at odds with Goebel for some time.

Owosso Resident, 74, Starts 2,000-Mile Jaunt Via Bicycle

Owosso, Mich., May 10 (AP)—A "rugged" 74-year-old Owosso resident is on his way to Boulder City, Nev.—via bicycle.

William Holland expects to reach the Nevada city—about 2,000 miles distant—in six weeks.

He claims to have ridden 175,000 miles on his bicycle and credits his good physical condition to such exercise.

the end of the blockade as a Soviet diplomatic defeat, the official Soviet army newspaper, Taegliche Rundschau, today called it an "unquestionable success of the policy of unity which was always pursued by the Soviet Union and the progressive forces of Germany."

The paper said that now that the Berlin blockade was ending, "warmongers" would make new efforts to split Germany—and claimed approval of the new west German Democratic constitution marked such an attempt.

But throughout the border area there was excitement in the air as willing workers installed radio and telephone equipment, repainted border signs and clipped weeds beside the long-neglected highways.

The British expected to have the first train into the city.

Fort Brady Hospital Problem Unsolved

Plan For Shifting Mental Patients Falls Through

Lansing, May 10 (AP)—State officials today were casting about for another solution to the Fort Brady hospital problem.

A proposed general shifting of mental patients throughout the state to vacate the hospital by Aug. 31 fell through yesterday when the trustees of the Children's hospital of Michigan withdrew their offer to sell their convalescent home at Farmington for $600,000.

The state had planned to convert the home into a mental hospital for 400 mentally deficient children. Withdrawal of the patients from Fort Brady at Sault Ste. Marie would then have been possible.

The Army, owner of the Fort Brady hospital, has notified the state that it wants to cancel the state's lease and house a new detachment of troops to guard the Soo canal.

Edwin J. Anderson, president of the trustees, notified state officials that staff doctors had protested sale of the convalescent home even though it houses only some 50 patients. It was built to house 250.

Governor Williams said the next step would probably be to ask the Army to extend the state's lease on the Fort Brady hospital another year. The Army has indicated it would consider such a proposal if the state could not find facilities for the mental patients.

Spurned Husband Stabs Young Wife While Taking Kiss

Rockford, Ill., May 10 (AP)—A young husband related today that he stabbed his estranged bride while kissing her. Police Capt. Ralph Johnson said.

The husband said his bride of nine months had spurned his plea for a reconciliation.

The wife, Mrs. Wanda Gates, 18, is in critical condition from stab wounds in her side and breast. Her husband, Thomas, is held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The stabbing occurred yesterday.

Amnesia Girl Asks Midland Police Aid

Midland (AP)—A pretty young amnesia victim has appealed to police for help in identifying herself. She is about 17, has dark hair, is 5 feet four and a half inches tall, and weighs 117 pounds. She is wearing a gray coat, print blouse and black skirt.

POLICE FREE NEGRO SAILOR

Doubt Knifing Story By Magazine Salesman

Sl/c Willie Jones, Negro sailor accused of knifing John Gill, Plymouth, Indiana, magazine salesman, was released from custody by Chief of Police M. F. Ettenhofer this morning. Jones will return to the USS Hollyhook at Sturgeon Bay.

Chief Ettenhofer said that a thorough investigation of the case has convinced him that Jones was not involved in the case. Gill and others in his group of magazine solicitors left town this morning, without keeping a scheduled nine o'clock appointment with the police chief.

Ettenhofer reported that the police have checked Gill's story that he was knifed in a scuffle with a colored man Saturday night and are unconvinced that the incident occurred as Gill described it. The magazine salesman was intoxicated when he went to his hotel room Saturday evening, the police chief said. He was wearing his suit coat and a shirt when he entered the elevator at the hotel.

Later when he was found in his room with a slight cut across his abdomen and another on his left arm, Gill was shirtless and coatless. His undershirt was cut but not his suitcoat or his shirt. The wounds did not draw blood.

Charlie Brown and his daughter, Pearl, reported to police that one or the other was with Jones throughout the evening and that the colored sailor, whom Gill identified as his attacker, could not have been involved in a fight with Gill without the knowledge. Jones steadfastly denied being involved in any scuffle with Gill or being in the presence of the magazine salesman.

YOUTH HURT IN MOTOR MISHAP

Robert Houle, 16, Taken To Hospital

Robert Houle, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Houle, 1806 Ludington street, was injured this morning when the motor bike that he was driving ran into an automobile driven by Oliver Sequin, Rt. 1, Gladstone. The accident occurred at 8:30 a. m. at the intersection of Eighth avenue south and 12th street.

Houle was riding south on 12th street and Sequin's car was headed east on Eighth avenue at the time of the mishap. Houle's motor bike struck the left rear part of Sequin's car. Police estimated that Houle was travelling between 30 to 35 miles per hour at the time of the accident.

The youth was taken to St. Francis hospital. His condition is not regarded as serious but the extent of his injuries will not be determined until the completion of an x-ray examination.

The motor bike was considerably damaged.

FAT AND FORTY BOYS POPULAR

Ruark Sees Trend Away From Handsome Brutes

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York. — For the past 20 years or so I have kept a chart on what kind of male frontispiece makes the female heart go sizz-boom-bah—very possibly hoping that someday there would be a vogue in mildly fat boys with fleeing hairlines.

At the moment a 50-year plus opera singer named Ezio Pinza is the hottest thing since the Kinsey report. Mr. Pinza is teetering on the edge of grandparenthood, and the part he plays in the musical, "South Pacific," is that of an upper-middle-aged man. But they faint for Mr. Pinza now as they used to swoon for Valentino. Mr. Pinza, aided by grandfather Carl Brisson, has made youth impractical and unfashionable to the practicing Don Juan. The old joints may crack on the balcony lattice-work, but as soon as gramps gets his breath—oh, boy!

We have come a long way since the immortal Valentino, who let us in for a decade of slick-haired Latin lovers as the beau ideal of the palpitating matrons. Rudy's bear-greased, sideburned magnetism lasted so long that George Raft fashioned a fair career of walking in the master's fading footsteps.

Vallee Was Mystery
There was an interim period between the devilish Latin and the ugly brute, as later typified by the flame-haired Mr. Gable, and the dame-beating Cagney. This was filled more or less neutrally and certainly hygienically by Mr. Rudy Vallee.

Nobody has ever quite figured out what Rudy had that made the dames go vroom-vroom. In the old days he presented the personality of a dehydrated carp. He had the voice, if voice it was, of a saddened sheep come down with adenoids. He wasn't much to look at. But he stacked 'em in the aisles, and bakes from Cincinnati to Siberia hated their husbands every time "Vagabond Lover" was played.

Mr. Gable, ears and all, then swaggered onto the scene, and for awhile anybody who wasn't six foot two, unshaven, gruff and rough stood no chance for public feminine adoration. Mr. Cagney was the exception which held the rule upright. He was an ex-chorus boy and pretty small, but he looked so mean and talked so tough and pushed girls' faces deep into grapefruit that you forgave him his size and his past. The ladies yearned to be mussed up by Mr. Cagney almost as much as they craved a tussling by Mr. Gable.

Came The Fragile Trend
We had a queer recession, then, doubtless induced by war and the fact that most of the able-bodied men went off to fight the battles of Piccadilly and King's Cross. This bred the Sinatra, or fragile trend in popular lovers. To qualify in this league you had to appear to be wispy, wispy, and maybe even a touch of tuberculosis, in order to fetch out the mother-feeding in the damsel. Actually it was only a wartime substitute, a throwback to the weedy Wallace Reid.

From the Sinatra stage, we progressed to a healthy postwar appreciation for the beautiful humble puppy, which included Van Johnson and Sonny Tufts. The boys had to be big, but they had to be handsome, too, and above all they had to be pasteurized in appearance. But the international bobby-soxer sickened quickly of this diet. It was much too bland.

Abandoning the 4-H club hero, they latched onto the man who intimidated a subtle evil, the satyr-faced Robert Mitchum became their fleshly god, and his popularity was heightened when they rode him off on a marijuna rap. They took a poll on Mitchum once and the consensus was they loved him because he looked so unsavory.

And now it seems we are trading in grandfathers, mellowed men who still use their own hair and teeth, but who have passed the boyish 40's and who don't mind admitting it. I think this is a very hopeful sign for the aging non-descripts. The day yet may come when the girlish wolf-calls are roared by fat fellows with bald skulls, sore teeth, and legal wives. Matter of fact, that golden age may be just over the horizon. I seem to recall that Roberto Rossellini has less hair and more paunch than I, and if he's good enough for Bergman, there's still hope for me.

Hiawatha Shaft To Be Deepened

Iron River—Development of the shaft at the Hiawatha No. 2 mine, deepest in the district, is underway, S. E. Quayle, Michigan manager of the M. A. Hanna company here, said yesterday.

A 2,300 foot depth was reached recently through a winch and now workmen are developing the shaft and getting ready for operations on the 19th level. The main shaft is to be deepened 200 feet to this level.

Levels at the Hiawatha are

Skogquist Heads Tax Allocation Board in Delta

Meeting in organization session the Delta county tax allocation commission yesterday elected Helmer Skogquist of Gladstone as its chairman for the ensuing year.

Other members of the tax allocation commission are Hagle Quarnstrom, county school superintendent; Robert Payl, county treasurer; C. W. Stoll, chairman of the county finance committee; C. Gust Peterson, member of the Escanaba board of education; and Nevin Reynolds, Escanaba city councilman. County Clerk J. Theodore Ohlen is chairman of the commission.

Next meeting of the commission will be May 24, when tentative tax millage rates for the Escanaba and Gladstone city schools, and the county, will be established. Tax rates for county school districts and the townships will be considered later. It is the responsibility of the commission to allocate tax rate under the state 15-mill limitation law. Taxing units—school districts and townships—are requested by Clerk Ohlen to submit their budgets and annual reports before the May 24 meeting.

The Hanna company also plans for the installation of a crusher underground, an arrangement for reducing chunky iron ore similar to the one now used at the firm's Homer and Wauseca mines, in Mineral Hills.

The Hiawatha operations consist of virtually two mines connected underground on the 16th and 18th levels between the two shafts of Hiawatha No. 1 and No. 2.

HIGHWAY M-94 IS IMPROVED

Several Miles Of Black Top To Be Applied

Manistique—Eight and three-tenths miles of Highway M-94 is to be improved and surfaced with blacktop starting about five miles north of Manistique under a $137,400 contract awarded Paul Miller of Grand Rapids by the state highway department.

The contractor has been crushing gravel in the area and yesterday began hauling to the job. Although there is no major relocation to be undertaken it will be necessary to round off corners and otherwise improve the road before surfacing is undertaken. New grading will be required on about four of the eight miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are living for the summer at the Kenneth Seidel home on Indian Lake. One of the larger highway contractors in Michigan, Miller commutes between Manistique and Grand Rapids by plane. Mr. and Mrs. Miller are both licensed pilots.

First Weight Tax Money To Delta $165,907

The Delta county road commission, the cities and the incorporated villages of Delta county have received a total of $165,907.21 in first quarter weight tax payment for this year, an increase of approximately seven per cent over the same period payment in 1948.

In the distribution of the funds according to state formula, the road commission received $115,907.47, Gladstone $12,053.80, Escanaba $35,952.89, and the village of Garden $1,120.05.

The increase in weight tax indicates a larger number of automobiles registered and licensed. The total weight tax for the first quarter in Michigan is $28,326,654, better than a two million dollar increase over the same period last year.

William Karas, road commission superintendent-engineer, pointed out that although there is an increase in weight tax revenue, the county road commissions this year will not have the benefit of a state loan granted last year. This loan to Delta county amounted to $40,000, a normal maintenance program, with local fund assistance to finance new construction or improvements, can be carried out.

In meeting yesterday the road commission authorized the purchase of four two-ton trucks for gravel hauling on the basis of bids recently received. One truck will be purchased from Brackett Chevrolet on its bid of $2,457.60, another from Jacobsen & Petersen for $2,318.29 and two from Hughes Tomlinson for $2,557.45 each.

It was also reported to the commission that Burton township is contributing $1,000 to assist in the improvement of its local roads.

Eskymo Nine Whips Gwinn, 7-4, For Its 2nd Win Of Season

Gwinn, May 10—Escanaba high school continued undefeated in the young 1949 baseball season by defeating Gwinn, 7-4, here yesterday afternoon. The Eskymos collected 16 safeties.

With the exception of a third-inning lapse when Gwinn scored three of its four runs, it was all Escanaba. The Eskymos scored in every inning except the fifth and sixth. Ray Oseen got the only extra-base hit of the game. It was a booming triple in the fourth that drove in two runs.

Escanaba played without the services of Charley Olson, who was ill and did not make the trip. Gil Prevost and Bob Paterek shared pitching duties. The Eskymos turned in two double plays, Puddy Weber to Joe Friedgen and Oseen to Gerald Dufour.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Chicago, May 10 (AP)—May wheat was strong at the opening of today's Board of Trade session. The nearby contract was up around 1 1/2 cents at times on buying said to reflect chain bakery purchase of flour and some short covering.

Holland was expected to accept 10,000 tons of flour offered overnight. Yesterday the Economic Cooperation Administration authorized $2,500,000 for purchase of wheat by Belgium and Luxembourg and $1,500,000 for corn to Denmark.

Feed grains advanced on the strength of wheat, some commercial buying, and light receipts from the country. Estimated receipts for the day placed corn at 53 cars and oats at 23 cars. After the opening May wheat offerings became more liberal and that delivery lost some of its early advance.

During the first hour wheat was unchanged to 1 1/2 cents higher. May $2.22 1/2; corn was 1/4 to 3/8 higher. May $1.33, and oats were 1/4 to 3/8 higher. May $2.15. Soybeans were 1/4 cent lower to 1/2 higher. May $2.28 1/2.

Business And Industry Join Clean-Up Drive

Today is the day Escanaba business and industrial establishments swing with the sponge, paint brush and hoe to clean up, paint-up and fix-up in step with householders in the community.

Juel Lee is chairman of the business and industrial committee for clean-up week. According to latest reports, there are some projects which are under way to make Escanaba clean and beautiful.

The Escanaba Paper company is now staging its annual clean-up project. They are planting shrubbery around the buildings, fixing lawns, and giving buildings a once over with the saw, hammer and paint brush.

Birdseye Veneer company and the Chicago and Northwestern Railway are cleaning up their outside areas to make an attractive setting for their business plants. The railway is confining its activities chiefly to the freight offices and yards.

Democrats Join Economy Drive

is in serious trouble now, but that there are hazards ahead which must be watched closely — particularly the possibility of fourth round wage increases and top-heavy corporate surpluses.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) kicked up a brief House flurry on the subject of economic conditions yesterday. He said there's too much government spending and "no amount of buck-passing or alibi-ing can hide Truman administration responsibility" if a depression comes.

Rep. Sabath (D-Ill) retorted that there will be no recession, "notwithstanding that the gentleman from Indiana would like to bring it about."

Some lawmakers say they think the current price slump goes deeper than government department reports indicate.

One of these, Senator Brewster (R-ME) remarked that he believes the advisory report "kills any tax bill for this session." Brewster, a finance committee member, has moved to repeal the 15 per cent tax on railroad, airline, bus and ship tickets. The advisory council said nothing about this levy, but suggested studying the possibility of cutting off the 3 per cent tax on air, land and water freight.

Senator George said he thinks Congress should leave social security payroll taxes where they are until January 1, instead of boosting them July 1 as administration leaders have proposed. The President's advisers suggested the delay might be a good idea.

"Many of the excise taxes are a direct brake on business," George said. "They should be subjected to a thorough study. There also is no hurry about increasing the payroll tax, which, of course, is just as much of a drag on the economy as any other levy."

Boy, 15, Near Death; Shot Picking Lilacs By Detroit Hitmen

Detroit, May 10 (AP)—A youth shot for picking flowers remained in critical condition today while formal charges were pending against his 38-year-old assailant.

Donald Walsh, 15, of Dearborn township, was reported "resting comfortably" in Wayne county general hospital. He was placed in an oxygen tent following removal of a pistol bullet from his chest.

Miss Emma Arnold, who lives in a nine-room house at Levan Road and Ann Arbor Trail, was still in Wayne county jail. She was being held for investigation on felonious assault charges.

The shooting occurred late Sunday. Walsh and seven other youths had stopped to pick lilacs in the yard of Miss Arnold's apparently deserted home.

She appeared on the porch and fired at them, telling Walsh. Some months ago she wounded two other trespassers on her property. She has a permit for the weapon, but Ralph Turco, county chief of detectives, observed that she "shoots too many people."

Old Age Assistance Increased To $60

Governor Vetoes Second Measure Of Session

Lansing, May 10 (AP)—Governor Williams today signed into law a bill increasing maximum old age assistance benefits from $50 to $60 a month and vetoed the second measure of his term.

The old age increase was the first of measures recommended by the governor to be presented to him with legislative approval.

The governor disapproved a measure which would have transferred the functions of the state land office board to the auditor general. The veto has the effect of transferring the board's duties to the conservation commission.

The existing law provided for automatic discontinuance of the board May 1 and transfer of its duties to the conservation commission.

The board had the management and control of lands in southern Michigan returned to the state for delinquent taxes. The conservation commission controls tax delinquent lands in the northern part of the state.

"In my mind," a statement by Williams said, "it makes better sense to have the department already performing half the work handle the whole job. In this way there will not be one policy and operation in one part of the state and another in the remaining portion. Specialized personnel can be concentrated in one department."

"The state will save money by having the conservation department do the entire job. Today, with the state land office board separated from conservation, the cost to the state is about $95,000. With this function in the conservation department, the 1949-50 budget indicates a saving of over $15,000."

Teller At Lansing Bank Admits Taking $380 In Two Years

Detroit, May 10 (AP)—Rebecca J. Hadden, 24-year-old Lansing bank teller, pleaded guilty to embezzlement before federal judge Theodore Levin today.

The judge referred the case to the probation department, whose recommendation will be awaited before sentencing. Miss Hadden was released on $500 personal bond.

The young woman, who surrendered this morning to Joseph C. Murphy, chief assistant U. S. attorney, admitted taking $380 during her two years employment at the American State Bank in Lansing. "To buy clothes and pay personal debts."

Wave of Walkouts Problem in Japan; Coal Miners Strike

Tokyo, May 10 (AP)—More Japanese miners went on a one-day strike today. General MacArthur's labor chief said the wave of walkouts "constitutes a real problem."

Chester W. Hepler, head of the occupation's labor division, made the statement to newsmen as 57,890 coal miners in the Tokyo, Yamaguchi and Joban areas walked out for 24 hours.

The wave of strikes called by

Ex-Actress Starts Life Sentence For Kidnaping Manager

Tehachapi, Calif., May 10 (AP)—Madge Meredith, ex-actress, began a five-year to life sentence on kidnaping charges today in Tehachapi prison for women.

However, she said she is hopeful a group of Hollywood friends may obtain a pardon for her. Also she said she plans to study English while in prison, so she'll be better prepared for a picture career when she is released.

Miss Meredith, 27, was convicted of conspiring with three men to kidnap and beat Nick Gianiclis, her former manager. The actress and Gianiclis were involved in a dispute over possession of a home they bought jointly.

In Hollywood, actress Zasu Pitts and film producer Charles Weintraub are circulating a petition asking Governor Earl Warren to review Miss Meredith's case.

Collaboration With America Desirable, Says Moscow Radio

London, May 10 (AP)—Moscow radio says collaboration between the American and Russian economic systems is both possible and desirable.

The broadcast won special attention since it came less than two weeks before the May 23 big four conference. On that date U. S. and Russia negotiators will meet along with French and British colleagues in a new effort to settle the German question.

Vavilov, a radio Moscow commentator speaking in English, said in a broadcast heard by the Soviet monitor here:

"The anti-Hitler coalition of three great powers—the Soviet Union, the U. S., and Britain—gave the nations of the world a splendid example of fruitful collaboration between different economic systems during the period of the second world war.

"And it is certainly natural that if two different systems could collaborate in war, even more can they collaborate in peacetime. Such collaborations not only are possible but desirable in the interests of maintaining a stable peace x x x."

Mark Twain patented in 1873 a book which did not have a single word in it yet 25,000 copies of it were sold. It was a self-pasting scrapbook.

In addition to the coal miners, an estimated 75,000 members of the federation of metal mine workers unions struck today.

The federation of coal miners unions resulted from workers' resistance to wage reductions. Hepler said. He added that management "contents that without subsidies it cannot maintain wage scales."

According to one survey, more than 68 per cent of U. S. families owned one or more passenger cars.

LAND AUCTION NETS $13,360

Most Parcels Offered By State Are Sold

Most of the 2,599 acres of state-owned land offered for sale in public auction at the court house in Escanaba today were sold and the proceeds totaled $13,360, according to a report from C. E. Malnar, assistant chief of the lands division, Michigan department of conservation.

One hundred and twenty acres in Luce county were all sold and brought $620. Lands in Schoolcraft county, totaling 200 acres, were sold for $990. Two platted lots and 120 acres found no buyers.

Delta county state land acreage offered for sale totaled 1,540 acres and 1,300 were sold for $4,900. One platted lot in the city of Escanaba sold for $190.

Six hundred acres were offered in Menominee county and all was sold for a total of $6,850. Largest single sale was a 10-acre parcel on the shore of Green bay, including a building, that brought $5,100.

Assisting Malnar in the sale were D. J. McCarthy, assistant in the lands division, and C. H. Slater of Munising, lands examiner for the state. Malnar and McCarthy are of Lansing.

Last state lands sale in Escanaba was in November, 1948. From Escanaba the state men will go to Crystal Falls where a sale of state-owned lands in Gogebic, Dickinson and Iron counties will be held tomorrow. Other sales in the U. P. will be held later at L'Anse, Marquette and St. Ignace.

Martin L. Fansher Dies in Stambaugh

Iron River, Mich.—Martin L. Fansher, 68, proprietor of the Stambaugh Funeral home and a coroner of Iron county for 16 years, died at 3:30 p. m. Sunday at Stambaugh General hospital following a week's illness with virus pneumonia.

An attack of hiccoughs on Saturday, April 30, was the first symptom of the ailment characterized by an inflammation of the diaphragm, and Mr. Fansher remained in his apartment over the funeral home all the following day. His condition grew more serious early Monday morning and the doctor was summoned.

He lapsed into unconsciousness, and on Thursday morning was removed to the Stambaugh hospital near his home. At the bedside when he died were his wife, his daughter, Miss Doris Fansher, who arrived Sunday morning after flying from Honolulu, and a son-in-law, James Maher, of Minneapolis.

According to one survey, more than 68 per cent of U. S. families owned one or more passenger cars.

New Sav-Mor Cash Market Will Open Here On Thursday

The Sav-Mor Cash Market at 306 Stephenson avenue, managed by Casimir Milkiewicz, will hold its grand opening at 9 a. m. Thursday, it was announced this morning.

Milkiewicz has had 12 years of experience in the retail grocery business, having followed it continually since his graduation from Escanaba high school in 1936.

He was with the Cashway store here for two years and served as manager of the Cashway store in Rapid River for one year and the Cashway in Gwinn for about two and a half years before going to Pulaski, Wis., to manage the Red Owl store for approximately seven years.

He has been located there as Red Owl manager until returning to Escanaba to go into business here. His wife and three sons are still residing in Pulaski, but they will join him here as soon as living quarters are available.

The new store has an SDD and SDM license.

Notre Dame Club Elects Officers

The Hiawathialand Notre Dame club in meeting last night at Menominee elected officers for the ensuing year and honored M. N. Smith of Escanaba, its retiring president, who was presented with a Notre Dame blanket. Mr. Smith was a captain and pitcher of the Notre Dame baseball team in 1898.

The new officers are Paul Preuz of Menominee, president; Atty. John Walsh, Marquette, vice president; Robert Schmit, Escanaba, secretary-treasurer. Attending the meeting from Escanaba were Mr. Smith, Mr. Schmit, Rev. Fr. Howard Drollet and John Lemmer.

BRISTOL MINE WILL REOPEN

Crystal Falls Property Being Dewatered

Crystal Falls.—Reactivation work at the Bristol mine has advanced to a stage where the Inland Steel company now is making plans to list it as an active property.

The Bristol, which suspended operations in 1938, when Inland Steel purchased it, was one of the county's large producers.

Dewatering, shaft repairs and improvement to shaft buildings, along with underground development, have been in progress since 1948. Up to two weeks ago some 571 million gallons of water have been removed.

When the rehabilitation program started, the water in the shaft was 12 feet from the surface and now it has been pumped to a depth of 1,300 feet, with about 400 feet remaining in the 1,700-foot shaft. Pumping started in February, 1948.

Pursuant to equipping of the Bristol, a new Tel-smith crusher and pan-feeder have been installed in the headframe. A new prefabricated steel combination building has been erected near the shaft. It houses the main office, shops, change house and a garage, all under one roof.

The miners' change facilities are connected with the shaft by a housed-in walkway on ground level.

250,000 Affected By Ford Strike

THERE may be some good and just reasons why Ford Motor company employees walked off their jobs in protest of what the union calls a "speedup." From this distance, however, it appears that the union acted rashly in forcing a quarter-million workers from their jobs as a result of this strike.

The issue involves only about 2,300 employees directly but more than 100 times that number of persons are affected. More will be forced into unemployment if the strike continues for any length of time.

The union charges a speedup of the assembly line. The record shows that from January 1 to April 5 the average daily number of Ford cars produced at the main assembly line was 316. From April 5 to May 4, the day before the strike began, the average daily production was 337 automobiles. Average production increased about seven per cent. The number of employees on the production line increased from 2,100 on January 1 to 2,300 on the day the strike began, or an increase of slightly under 10 per cent.

Admittedly, these figures do not in themselves refute the charges that the speedup is improper. The union argues that the speedups occur because the management refuses to operate the assembly lines at a constant speed and insists that lost production on a shift, caused by breakdowns or other factors, be made up before the end of the shift by speeding up the lines.

Nevertheless, it certainly appears that the issue involved is one that could be settled easily enough without resort to a tremendous costly strike, if the union was genuinely interested in reaching a solution. The union's contract with Ford provides that such differences be subjected first to negotiation and if that fails, to submit the problem to arbitration.

This was not done, however. The union simply called the strike, with the result that more than a quarter of a million workers are out of jobs, with prospects that more will be added to the list in the days ahead. At least 99 per cent of those affected by the walkout have no part in the dispute at all and are probably wondering what the layoff is all about.

Letters For Forum Column Welcomed

MORE contributions for the public forum column that will start in the Escanaba Daily Press next Monday are welcomed. The column will be published daily in the space now occupied by Hal Boyle's column on the editorial page. Boyle's column will be printed elsewhere in the paper.

As previously explained, the names of contributors to the public forum column will be withheld from publication at the writers' request or when pen names are given. The name and address of the contributor must be submitted to the editor, however, as assurance of the validity of the communication. All letters for this column must be confined to 250 words, preferably less. Contributions in excess of that limit will be returned to the writers with a request to baffle them down.

Three to four contributions will be published each day, or a total of 20 to 24 each week. That means that publication of your contributions will not be materially delayed.

Write on any subject that you desire, but preference will naturally be given to those subjects that command the greatest local interest. Avoid personalities. Be brief. Keep your community on its toes. Those are the rules. The rest is up to you.

O'Mahoney Philosophy Breeds Inefficiencies

SENATOR O'MAHONEY of Wyoming, speaking against cutbacks in federal governmental spending, Sunday sounded a New Deal philosophy that indicates why it is so difficult to get any improvement in government efficiency.

O'Mahoney argued that reduction of governmental payrolls is a mistake that "may bring on a real depression." The Democratic senator spoke against the dismissal of 8,000 VA employees, arguing that the government sets a pattern for business in this country. O'Mahoney likewise expressed opposition to a proposal to whack four billion dollars or more in President Truman's budget for the next fiscal years.

The Hoover commission reports have shown clearly that no business could long exist if it operated with the inefficiency of the federal government. The commission advocated sharp decreases in federal expenditures and pointed the way to considerable savings through various efficiencies. O'Mahoney and other senators and congressmen with similar New Deal views are not at all interested in governmental efficiency. There is the political view that the more men on governmental payrolls, the more patronage to be distributed by the party in power. The fact that this policy jeopardizes the financial strength of the country concerns them not at all.

Unless there is retrenchment in federal expenditures, the alternatives are further increases in federal taxation or boosts in the national debt. Few persons can condone an increase in the national debt under present conditions in view of the fact that the debt has already reached the astronomical figure of 252 billion dollars.

An increase in taxes, however, would certainly invite the very depression which Senator O'Mahoney is worried might come because a few thousand unneeded employees are stricken from the federal payroll.

Taxes already are so high that business expansion is discouraged. Further, deductions from paychecks of individuals take a bite that otherwise would be available as a prop for declining sales.

Wait Until The Dust Settles

IT is too late to review past mistakes as the tragic collapse of Nationalistic China enters its final phase. The question now is whether anything can be salvaged from the catastrophe. Some experts think there is such a possibility.

Major General Chennault believes that a great deal of China can be saved from the Communists by immediate and substantial American aid. Some members of congress support the same view. If they are right, to whom are the arms and money to be sent?

American arms sent to China swiftly find their way into Communist hands. American money lines the pockets of Nationalist leaders. The most dismal fact about China today is that there is no government and no leadership to which aid can be extended with confidence that the money and arms will be used effectively to combat the Red advance.

The state department's decision to stand by and wait until the dust settles, in the hope that the Communists will eventually be bemired in the morass that has swallowed up so many of China's past conquerors, is not much of a policy. It is, in fact, a policy of despair.

But what other course can the United States follow, with any hope of success, short of sending American armies into China to fight the war that the leaders of Nationalist China are too inept, too weak, and too corrupt to fight for themselves.

TREE PLANTING MACHINE (Menominee Herald-Leader)

Mechanization of Menominee county farms started about 40 years ago with introduction of milking machines. They were first regarded as new fangled and faddish, like most innovations, and some folks said that The Lord has made hands to do milking with and it would be a cold day in Hades before a milking machine would be a success. But time has proved these prophets of failure wrong and now a milking machine is considered as much a routine part of dairy farm equipment as a dairy farmer. Mechanization has come a long way in four decades, particularly in the 30 years since World War I, which have seen the tractor largely replace the horse and the electric motor take a lot of lifting from the farmer's back.

Mechanization has entered tree farming, too, but it hasn't attained the general acceptance yet that it has in the farming of tillable acres. Tractors are widely used in the woods, and chain saws are coming into increased use, but loaders are found in use on only occasional jobs and in tree planting Menominee county has relied until now upon a man with a hand planting tool. This makes May 17 a historic day in Menominee county, which uses more than 80 per cent of its land for the growing of trees and less than 20 per cent for tillage. At 10:30 a. m. on May 17 there will be a demonstration of a powered tree planting machine at the fire tower east of Stephenson. The tree planter is being loaned by the Chicago & North Western Railroad. It indicates that mechanized forestry is coming of age here and holds forth hope that it will accelerate efficient use of the county's forest land, most of which is now unmanaged and only haphazardly productive.

Only 35,000,000 brooms will have been turned out this year as compared with the normal output of 50,000,000. A dirty trick on homes.

A student in a western college was dismissed for giving false entrance information. He might at least have waited until exams to do his cheating.

SOME BOOK RECOMMENDATIONS

Readers in large numbers write to me and ask for my recommendation on textbooks that will help them improve their writing and use of English generally.

Of course I am not acquainted with all the textbooks that are published; but I can recommend the following books as being authentic, reliable, helpful, and understanding.

For all poets, from the dabbler in light verse to the serious writer of sonnets, I recommend the unabridged "Rhyming Dictionary," by Clement Wood, published by the World Publishing Company, Cleveland and New York. This is the most comprehensive rhyming dictionary that I have seen. It contains a greater number of rhyming words and rhyming words than any other dictionary yet published. An added feature is a complete course in versification, self-taught.

All writers should have a good book of synonyms. Of course the standard for many years has been "Roget's Thesaurus." This is now issued in revised form by Grosset and Dunlap, New York. The "Thesaurus" is cross-indexed so that synonyms can be found quickly for almost any word.

Stable Germany Will Stop Reds

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—The ending of the Berlin blockade is certainly a cause for rejoicing, since it liquidates one of the most difficult and ticklish situations of this hair-trigger postwar era.

But no one in authority has any illusions that it will mean a magical transformation in every department of the U. S. A.—U. S. S. R. relations.

It is considered, rather, to be a change in Soviet tactics. The Russians are realists in these matters. The blockade was a net loss for the Soviet Union since it was more costly for East Germany than for West Germany.

Therefore, the contest for control of Germany and Europe must be transferred to another field. Some hints of what that field will be have already come from the Soviets in Berlin. The Russians will strive for a unified Germany in which a German Communist party will play a dominant and decisive part.

AIRLIFT WILL STAY

The fabulous airlift, which defeated the blockade, will not be dismantled entirely. Gradually reduced in scope, a nucleus will be kept that can be quickly built upon if and when another emergency arises.

The retirement of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who has come through the fantastic perils of the Berlin controversy, will mean important changes in German policy. Above all, these changes will be on the economic side.

Clay has been at odds with officials of the European co-operation administration. He has been criticized for failing to carry out the decartelization of German industry under official policy laid down by President Truman. In a recent interview Clay defended his economic assistants and rejected the criticism aimed at them by a special committee sent from the United States to survey the way in which decartelization had—or had not—been carried out.

Now it appears likely that a new team will take over. The belief here is that John J. McCloy, at present head of the International Bank, has been persuaded to become the first civilian administrator of the U. S. zone in Germany.

DIFFICULT ASSIGNMENT

This is not an assignment that any sane man would seek out. It is as full of pitfalls as a roller coaster. But McCloy is a public-spirited citizen with a strong sense of duty.

He has a close and friendly relationship with Paul Hoffman, head of the European aid program. If McCloy goes to Germany, these two men could be expected to carry through a successful working partnership.

They have many similarities of temperament. Both are healthy extroverts who have, above all, a facility for getting along with people. Both men tend to apply the test of practicality to what they do. They both have a remarkable capacity for hard work.

In spite of repeated rumors that appear to have been planted, Hoffman has no intention of resigning at this time. Nor is there any indication that the president will ask him to resign.

If he followed his personal preference, Hoffman would go back to his business, which is making automobiles. Several times he has given the president an opportunity to say that it might be better if Hoffman resigned. The president has ignored the opportunity.

Hoffman feels that the next few months are critical for the recovery of Europe and especially with respect to France and Germany. He hopes to see the recovery program through that period, which would mean that he would not contemplate a change before the end of the year.

FEAR POLITICAL BUILD-UP

An interesting sidelight in this politically conscious town is that some influential Democrats feel Hoffman, a Republican, should be got out of the way because his success might build him up as a GOP candidate for 1952. There are even, it is said, ambitious Republicans who feel the same way.

A third member of the team will be Averell Harriman, head of ECA in Europe. Harriman, often mentioned as a possible successor to Hoffman, is now in Washington conferring on future ECA policy. As ambassador to Moscow he had broad experience in the troubled field of East-West relations.

The best chance for Communism to win domination in Germany, short of being imposed by Soviet arms, is in economic breakdown and chaos. The team of McCloy, Hoffman and Harriman will have an unparalleled opportunity to contribute to a stable—and democratic—Europe and at the same time they will have one of the toughest tasks that could possibly be imagined.

Mass, is perhaps the newest work of its kind.

All writers, and especially newspaper people, should have a good book on modern style in spelling, punctuation, manuscript preparation, copy editing, etc. The best of this kind to come to my notice is a recent publication, "Words Into Type," published by Appleton-Century-Krofts, Inc., New York. This book is really a treasure house of valuable information for all who use the written or printed word.

Another splendid style book is "The States Government Printing Office Style Manual," for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, United States Government Printing Office, Washington, 25, D. C.

Every writer should have a good book of quotations. For many years the standard reference has been "Familiar Quotations," by John Bartlett, published by Little, Brown, and Company, Boston, Mass. The newest collection is "A New Dictionary of Quotations on Historic Principles," selected and edited by H. L. Mencken, published by Alfred A. Knopf, New York. The Mencken collection contains thousands of quotations which are not listed in Bartlett's "Familiar Quotations." Professional writers should have both books.

Anyway, It's a Good Start

Good Evening By Clint Dunathan

SOUTHERN GOAL—The Ed Ericksons, Escanaba's salt and freshwater sailing family, are now at Havana, Cuba, southern goal of a year-long cruise in the 40-foot ketch, "America." They left Escanaba last fall, sailed down Lake Michigan, through the Illinois river to the Mississippi, thence to the gulf, to Florida—and to Cuba.

"From here on we are starting to head towards home," writes Ed from LaHavana on April 23. Towards home means up along the East Coast to Maine for the summer, then back to the Hudson, the Erie Canal to Lake Erie and thence home to Escanaba sometime late next summer.

The "America" in its first open water sailing on the Gulf of Mexico went 150 miles from Apalachicola to Tarpon Springs. At the former port the Ericksons took aboard a young man, Pat Frazier, U. S. Navy veteran, as crew member. He will accompany them to Miami.

Swimming was enjoyed the next morning.

"We decided definitely to make the trip to Havana, so a wire was sent to our daughter, Belle, in Chicago. Two days later she was in Key West with us, flying down in one day from Chicago. She was surprised to see our brown skin, and more surprised to find me much thinner than she remembered. Hope it lasts."

ON TO HAVANA—After much red tape and the payment of $9.50 the "America" cleared for Havana a half hour before midnight.

"At last we had favorable winds and the 'America' pushed steadily southward at about five knots. In the morning the sea was as blue as could be. Towards evening we were in the center of about fifty frisky porpoises, entertaining us with their antics. The lights of Havana were sighted in the distance about 9 p. m., and the Moro Castle light was plainly visible."

Cautiously entering the harbor they nearly ran down a buoy that was supposed to be lighted, but was not. Dropping the hook in a sheltered spot the crew had "a couple of cups of hot coffee, and sandwiches and then went below for a good sleep."

HOSPITABLE—Cuban officials routed them out at 9 a. m., and Ed hurriedly washed the sleep out of his eyes and hit the deck to greet them. The quarantine flag came down. The Ericksons took the dingy and went ashore to arrange mooring at the Club Nautico International De La Habana. The "America" began dragging her anchor and they raced back, preventing her drifting down on a power boat.

"The courtesy and friendliness extended to us has been marvelous. This evening the manager of the club took us sightseeing in his own car, showing us to his home for refreshments. And to think people almost talked me out of making the trip with their tall stories of the way Americans are treated here."

Happy over his navigation and proud of his little family of sailors, Ed looks forward to a pleasant stay in Cuba before leaving.

"The gulf stream will be in our favor going north and we shall encounter favorable winds."

CHURCH AND ICE CREAM—After a few days the Ericksons went on Venice Inlet, where for two days they were sheltered from a storm. Fort Myers proved pleasant and there several bushels of oranges and grapefruit were put aboard. The old folks sunning themselves on benches reminded Ed of St. Petersburg, where he used to go with his father when they wintered there.

"After a few days we again renewed our supplies. The whole family went to church on Palm Sunday. After church we enjoyed a big dish of ice cream and then prepared to cast off our lines again."

KEY WEST—The "America" had run on a mud bank in reaching Fort Myers up the Caloosahatchee river, but no trouble was encountered on the way down. At the river entrance to the gulf the hook was dropped and a good supper was enjoyed—"our last until we reached Key West."

Bucking southeast winds, it was several days before the entrance to the northwest passage and began to motor into the harbor. Plugged filters from the rough seas caused motor trouble. Town lights and the many bouys put out at the U. S. Navy base at Key West were confusing. It was not until 1 a. m. that the "America" was securely docked.

"Again the whole crew could go below to sleep; fairly quiet water and no watches to stand."

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—The official temperature in Escanaba yesterday reached 79 degrees at 3 p. m.

Escanaba—Mrs. A. C. Peterson of Gladstone was elected regent of Lewis Cass chapter of the D. A. R. at elections Monday, at the home of Mrs. George Craver in Wells.

Manistique—Frank Dahms sr., has resigned from the city council because of ill health. He was elected in the spring election of 1936.

Gladstone—Miss Norma Huens is employed at the Delta Reporter office, replacing Miss Verle Buckmaster, who resigned recently.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Mel Jorgenson, former Escanaba lightweight boxing idol, arrived here Wednesday from Detroit to visit relatives. He is now employed as a motor cop in Detroit.

Escanaba—A total of 153 trees have been contributed to the Memory Lane project sponsored by the American Legion.

Manistique—Major Putnam of Chicago, consulting engineer for the Inland Steel company, arrived to inspect operations of the Inland Lime and Stone company at Seul Choix.

The Ford strike today is second to baseball as a conversational topic.

Detroit is currently the most baseball-mad city in the country. And the name on every body's lips is Johnny Groth, the sensational rookie center fielder for the Detroit Tigers.

Fans here regard this wonder lad as Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio wrapped up in one parcel.

"If Johnny Groth ran for mayor tomorrow," said one citizen, "he'd win in a walk."

And he probably would. For Detroit is a young man's town. And it worships youth—on the way up.

Having never seen an assembly line—that web of standing men and moving steel which lies at the heart of American productive genius—I rode out to the Chrysler plant to inspect one.

It wasn't as much like Charlie Chaplin's "Modern Times" as I had expected. It was quieter.

Two men picked up a metal frame and placed it on a traveling tread. Two thousand feet and an hour and 20 minutes later the completed car rolled off the assembly line under its own power.

In between were some 700 separate operations and 500 inspections. Each of the hundreds of workmen performed only a single task. But for every ten men there was a utility worker able to step in and take the place of any of the ten.

I asked the guide if the only job performed by some men all day long was merely to tighten a certain nut as the cars passed.

"No," he laughed. "They usually screw on the nut as well as tighten it."

We are in an era of startling medical progress. But as medical care becomes better, it also becomes more expensive. The traditional method of paying for medical care cannot meet the health needs of today. At the same time that our knowledge of how to provide medical care is at its highest point, more and more people are unable to afford it.—President Truman.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Montgomery, Ala.—A few years ago, if anyone predicted that white and Negro teachers would soon be paid the same salaries in the schools of Alabama, he would have been scoffed at.

A few years ago also, no one would have believed the prediction that Negro schools would become as up-to-date and modern as white schools. And if anyone had predicted that a Negro would sit among twelve good men and true on a jury which decided the fate of a white man where the death sentence was involved, he would have been considered revolutionary.

However, all of these things have happened—in Alabama.

Furthermore, there seems to be a healthy desire in this state, which has one of the heaviest Negro populations of the south, to work quietly and steadily toward improvement of race relations.

Two new Negro high schools have just been finished in Montgomery, and this writer, who recently visited them, can testify to the fact that they appear more up-to-date than the older schools for white children. Alabamians admit that the Negro schools were long overdue, and that it has only been recently that Negro education has begun to catch up. However, the important thing is that it has improved.

Montgomery also boasts a state teachers college for Negroes which has a large number of modern, new, well-equipped buildings, plus an athletic field which some Alabamians ruefully claim is better than theirs.

Montgomery's most beautiful monument to Negro education, however, is St. Jude's school, built by the nickles and pennies scraped together by a Catholic priest, Father Purcell. It probably surpasses anything built by the state.

NORTH-SOUTH COOPERATION

Another monument to north-south cooperation is being urged by the Blue and Gray association which has built part of a football stadium for athletic contests between the north and the south, and is now trying to raise sufficient funds to complete the project.

Eventually a monument to the two great generals of the Civil War—Lee and Grant—will stand outside this shrine to north-south friendship where already an annual football game is played between two all-star teams from the north and the south in Montgomery, the cradle of the Confederacy.

Taking a cue from the Blue and Gray association, many southern high schools have invited northern school elevens to the south last winter, and the idea is spreading.

"You can't legislate or force goodwill and brotherly love," says Champ Pickens, chief organizer of the Blue and Gray memorial. "You have to encourage it."

The Blue and Gray has done a lot of encouraging and will do more down here in the heart of the deep south—if given a little help from those in the north who sometimes criticize without taking the trouble to find out how much progress the south is making on its own.

WALLACE SURPRISES G. O. P.

The Young Republicans club of New York staged a banquet in Manhattan the other night to announce the winner of an essay contest. It was a distinguished and important occasion.

Some of the top leaders of the Republican party, including Harold Stassen, had judged the contest and another judge, Bruce Bromley, of the New York court of appeals, was present to announce the winner.

Judge Bromley made the announcement with much dignity. He spoke of the importance of young political leaders rising to the front, and the importance of the question on which the essays were written—"Should the senate rules be changed?" He also emphasized that the contest had been non-partisan, following which he announced the winner, H. Carl Markel, a promising young man from Williams college, one of the old and blue-blooded colleges of New England.

Young Markel rose, calmly pocketed the $100 prize, and said:

"This is indeed a nonpartisan contest. In fact it isn't even bipartisan, but tripartisan. For during the last election I campaigned for Henry Wallace."

Dignified Judge Bromley looked horrified. Some of the Republicans acted as if a bombshell had struck.

"And I would like to tell you why I worked for Wallace," continued young Markel.

Whereupon Republican leaders were forced to sit in silence and listen to a political pep talk by one of Wallace's ardent admirers.

Note—After Markel finished, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, the main speaker of the evening, made this comment on Markel's essay: "If you had asked me, I could have told you that the Wallaceites don't want to change the senate rules, because they can spread more confusion under the present archaic rules."

CHENNAULT ON CHINA

Newspapermen were shooed out of the senate armed services committee the other day in order to find out if Gen. Claire Chennault had anything confidential to say about China. He didn't.

In answer to a question from Chairman Millard Tydings of Maryland, however, Chennault estimated it would cost one million dollars a day to support the nine Chinese provinces still holding out against the Communists.

At for graft in China, Chennault snapped: "Corruption isn't confined to China. It is found in France—and even in the United States."

The Flying Tiger chief also urged that U. S. volunteers be allowed to help train Nationalist soldiers and plan their battle strategy. He warned that the Communists have a genius for organizing and will be able to hold China once they conquer it.

Women agree that the man who said that women never agree was wrong.

Harnischfeger Transfer To Escanaba Is Issue In Labor Law Controversy

Washington, D. C.—The 1948 strike at the Newark (N. J.) truck frame plant of the Harnischfeger Corp. is an issue in the administration's attempt to repeal or amend the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Harnischfeger has closed its Newark plant and moved it to Escanaba, Mich., where eventually as many as 400 or 500 persons may be employed.

On the floor of the house last week, Representative Rodino (Dem., N. J.) charged that the Newark plant was closed and its 200 employees lost their jobs because of the Taft-Hartley law. He said the law had in fact promoted the "closed shop," although it sought to ban it.

He said it promoted the closed shop so well at the Harnischfeger plant that "it shut it up for keeps; its doors are now closed and nobody works there any more."

Union Chief Was Negro
Rodino quoted from a CIO statement before the house labor committee charging that the company, "in a flagrant display of dictatorial tactics," had asked the CIO United Automobile Workers' union at the Newark plant to replace its president because he was a Negro. This statement said the Negro president offered to resign to avoid a strike but that the union membership refused to permit him to do so.

"On the basis of the company's refusal to bargain with the Negro president, the union was forced to call a strike," said the CIO statement, read into the Congressional Record by Rodino. "The company, intent upon breaking the union, invoked the Taft-Hartley law and succeeded in getting an injunction restraining the union from picketing. The intention of the injunction soon became obvious. An advertisement was placed in a newspaper from a near-by town offering employment to veterans at attractive rates of pay, but specifically ignoring all mention of the labor dispute."

Korb Issues Denial
"Today the plant is closed and the 200 workers have been forced to seek employment elsewhere. The case is just another example of how the Taft-Hartley law has served to thwart the processes of collective bargaining and has resulted in the demise of the local union."

Tom Korb of Milwaukee, Harnischfeger counsel, who Monday became administrative assistant to Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep., Wis.), said that the company had never sought an injunction under the Taft-Hartley act in the Newark dispute. The national labor relations board confirmed his statement.

Korb accused the house labor committee of bad faith and of not acting in the public interest for refusing his request to appear before the committee to testify on the Taft-Hartley law. The attorney, who likes the Taft-Hartley law, said the reference to Harnischfeger in committee testimony was all the more reason why he should have been permitted to testify. He said his company's name had been "maligned" before the committee. He conceded that the company's labor relations were bad in Newark, that some workers would spend all day screwing on a nut and that serious and costly mistakes in workmanship had been made.

Strike Cost $400,000
Korb denied there was any feeling against the union president because he was a Negro, but said the company had to fire two men for insubordination just before the strike was called. He said the company at no time used its rights under the Taft-Hartley law, although it could have made charges of unfair labor practices after persons seeking to get through the union's picket line were injured. He said the strike cost Harnischfeger $400,000 in four months.

The union charged before the NLRB that Harnischfeger had moved from Newark to an "escape" plant, and therefore was guilty of an unfair labor practice. An NLRB examiner found it was indeed an "escape" plant, but the matter was dropped before it got to the board, the company choosing to settle by paying three weeks' dismissal pay, or about $22,000.

Korb insisted the company moved its Newark plant to Escanaba for economic reasons, and not to get away from labor troubles. A survey showed it was not economical to continue to assemble truck frames as far east as Newark, since the demand was farther west, he said. The company now has only a warehouse in the New Jersey metropolitan area, at Teterboro.

The company's employees at Escanaba are not now organized in a union, but it is expected they will be after operations there have become settled. The company has a welder plant at Escanaba and besides having a truck frame plant there it will also work on the smaller sized shovels and excavators. (From The Milwaukee Journal.)

Among the Indian mounds at Cahokia, Ill., is one which covers 16 acres and rises about 100 feet. It is the largest man-made earthen mound in the country and is bigger than the great pyramid of Giza in Egypt.

Lonely Partridge Becomes Playful Pet Of C&NW Railroad Section Crew

PARTRIDGE 'FLAGS DOWN' SECTION CREW — For more than a year this nearly full-grown male partridge has been meeting Foreman Leo Chriske and his C&NW section crew every day near Beaton's Spur, Gogebic county. Hearing the noise of the approaching "pede", the bird often dashes from the woods to the track where he goes through a series of playful antics to entertain himself and the men. He is pictured waiting the arrival of his friends.

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Some people have the knack of making friends with dogs and there are others who can charm a snake into twining around their necks.

But not many people can work up a friendship with a partridge. At least none that we ever knew. Until we met 62-year-old Leo Chriske, section foreman at lonely Beaton's Spur nine miles west of Watersmeet, it was our opinion that partridge were wild. Now we know better. You can talk to a partridge, play with it, pick it up and fondle it, release it and have it come back to you. That is what Leo has been doing almost daily for the past one and one-half years.

"You won't believe it," said John Chriske, Escanaba district conservation supervisor, and son of the Leo Chriskes.

There were a few minutes of doubt before the partridge came out to put on his act. But this is getting ahead of the story.

Seeing Is Believing

Arriving at Beaton's Spur that morning we found Leo having breakfast coffee with Joe Feirek, a woodsman who spends a couple months each summer with the Chriskes at the section foreman's house. Leo is average height and wiry, a quiet spoken man who rides a gasoline-powered pede along the Chicago & North Western railroad track like a man astride a galloping horse.

Since 1932 Mr. and Mrs. Chriske have lived at Beaton's Spur. For much of the year they are its only residents. Their comfortable house is located close to the C&NW track between Watersmeet and Ironwood, and is deep in the heart of Ottawa National Forest. Mrs. Chriske was visiting relatives in Wisconsin but Joe offered some of the chocolate cakes she had made before leaving.

"Maybe he won't believe it about the partridge," said Joe.

"He will when he sees it," said Leo confidently. "We'll leave as soon as I get my orders from Watersmeet."

While we waited for the telephone call Sammy Choichus and Seldon "Sally" Salisbury arrived from Watersmeet by auto. They were Leo's section crew. The call came through on where the boys were to work that day, the pede was pushed out of the shed and placed on the rails and we started rocketing down the track at 30 miles an hour.

Call Him Out

There was little fear of meeting a train because one runs between Watersmeet and Ironwood—where the line dead ends—only every other day. But it made you a little uneasy to recall that about six years ago Leo's pede had jumped the track and upended, throwing him headfirst onto the track and nearly killing him. Plastic surgeons fixed up his face but the circulation is impaired and in winter the cold winds cause him trouble.

Down through a swamp and then up a gentle grade went the noisy pede, and Leo looked around to shout, "The partridge lives on that ridge up ahead."

"Call him," said Sally. "See if he will answer."

Standing on the pede and looking over in the woods to the right of the track, Leo began calling, "Chickie! Chickie! Here chickie, chickie, chickie!"

There was a movement on the ground in the brush about 30 feet from the track. It was the partridge. Cautiously it walked around, not getting much closer, and clucking somewhat like a tame chicken.

"I guess it can tell you're a stranger," said Leo. "I'll go over and bring him out."

The partridge retreated coyly at first and then let itself be caught and carried out to the pede. With neck feathers ruffled like a bad-tempered rooster, the bird pecked at their gloved hands, clucked what was probably swear words in partridge language, and generally acted like a disagreeable character. Put down on the ground and released it walked toward the woods, looking back as if inviting one of the men to chase it.

"He'll come back," said Leo. "You watch."

He went to the pede and with Sally at the crank they started the noisy gasoline motor. Fearing they were going to leave without more play the partridge rushed back on the track and over to them.

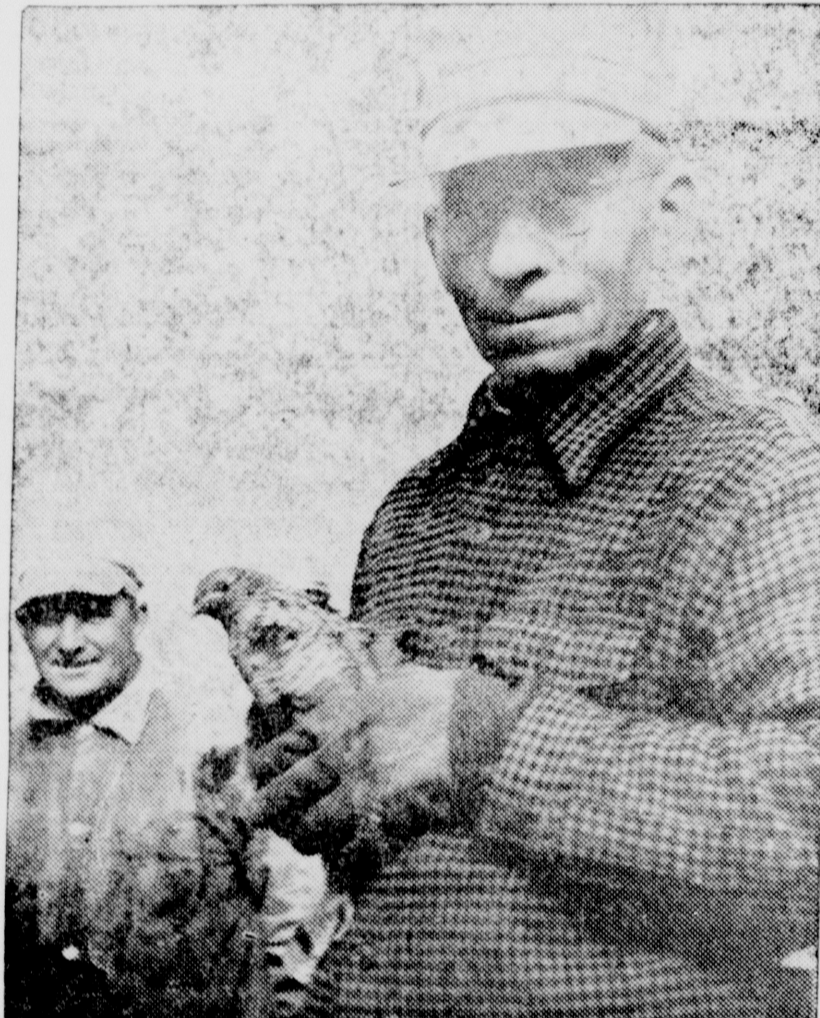

Then began one of the most unusual performances this reporter has ever witnessed. Sally and Leo took turns pushing the bird around and generally "roughing" it up. Obviously enjoying the play, the partridge would leap a couple feet into the air like a battling rooster, striking at their hands with its beak and doing everything but spur them. Occasionally it would let out a squawk of excitement. If they retreated it would put on a show of aggressiveness that would do credit to a trained fighting cock.

Reluctant To Leave

Finally tiring of the game, the section foreman and his crew piled back on the pede, pushed the partridge away from the wheels and headed back for Beaton's Spur.

The partridge ran along behind for a hundred feet or more and then halted. From way down the tracks you could see it still standing there, watching us.

Leo told us that the first time the bird had made its appearance it had run alongside the moving pede. That was in the fall of 1947. It had become bolder and they stopped to get better acquainted. Now it often comes out on the track to sit on the rail and meet them when it hears the pede coming. They have tried feeding it cracked corn and barley, but it will not eat. It is not crippled and it can fly like a streak if it wants to. Once Leo walked all the way down to the ridge to see if it would come out if he didn't arrive on the pede. He called to the

HE'S FOND OF LEO—Section crew Foreman Leo Chriske is pictured holding the pet partridge in his arms, after calling it to him. The bird pecks at gloved hands and will sometimes fly at the men's faces but it will not eat, although offered food.

SALLY 'ROUGH'S HIM UP'—"Sally" Salisbury, one of the section crew, plays with the partridge on the pede and generally "roughs him up." The partridge enjoys this and responds by coming back for more. When they leave the bird follows them a short distance.

"He comes running out when he hears the pede," yelled Sally, grinning. "From over that way," he added, pointing to the right.

But the partridge did not come running out to meet us and Leo's face took on an anxious look as the pede sputtered to a stop on the higher ground that is the bird's home.

He couldn't understand it, said Leo. The partridge was there yesterday, and the day before that. In fact he had come out to meet them almost every day for the past one and one-half years—except for a month or so last winter when he probably moved to look for better feeding ground.

PAUL WILL BE AT RAIL FAIR

Large Animated Figure Is Constructed

A towering figure of Paul Bunyan, two stories in height and described as the largest animated figure ever constructed, will be unveiled by the Chicago and North Western Railway, June 25, at the opening of the 1949 Railroad Fair.

The legendary hero of the North Woods was chosen as the central figure of the railway's new exhibit because he best typifies the size and spirit of the area served by the railroad, according to F. V. Koval, assistant to president of the railway.

Bunyan, to be built in the proportions of a man 35-feet tall, will be garbed in typical lumberjack clothing and seated on a giant stump surrounded by shrubbery and pine trees. Through modern mechanical contrivances he will have power of speech and movement and will tell many of the legendary tales which have surrounded him through history.

Bunyan's voice is accomplished by a complex system of microphones, sound recording devices, and speakers. Powerful electric motors will enable him to move his lips, eyes, head, and arms in close semblance of human motion.

Apparatus controlling the giant's eyes and mouth will be linked to the microphone system and will automatically synchronize lip and mouth movement with the voice. Visitors will be able to converse with Bunyan, asking questions and receiving answers.

Seated, he will tower 23 feet from the floor. Nearby will be his great double-edged axe and a loggers "peavey" in the proportion of a telephone pole. Seamstresses and tailors for the Gardner Displays Company, designers of the display, will manufacture trousers to fit his 150 inch waistline and a shirt for his size 80 neck.

Everything about Bunyan will be of mammoth proportions. His feet, measuring 4 feet 9 inches from toe to heel will require boots size 69. The cleats on his huge lumberman's boots, for example, will be as large as railroad spikes. Hat manufacturers say a size 42 lumberjack's cap will just fit the 11-foot circumference of his head.

Work on the structural steel framework of the figure which will feature an artists conception of "Babe," the Blue Ox, and other Bunyan characters, already has been started in Pittsburgh.

The little Pioneer locomotive, which introduced railroading to Chicago on October 25, 1843 will also appear in the Railroad Fair Pageant, "Wheels-A-Rolling." It was the 100th anniversary of this event last year which resulted in the decision to hold a Railroad Fair in Chicago.

Regular Check-Up Can End Certain Cancers in Women

One type of cancer in women could be wiped out through regular physical examinations each six months, according to a University of Michigan doctor.

Dr. Norman F. Miller, chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology in the University's Medical School, said early detection makes it possible to cure cervix cancer, a type of the disease occurring in the neck of the womb. Thirty per cent of the cancers occurring in women are of this type, he declared.

"The lives of thousands of women now unknowingly afflicted with this disease could be saved by prompt and regular medical consultation," Dr. Miller said.

But the University doctor sounded a warning against undue optimism, both on the part of the doctor and patient, regarding the early detection of every type of cancer.

"Periodic check-up examinations can do the greatest amount of good when the cancer is located where the physician can see the early stages," he said. "Though every reasonable examination may be made, a doctor or cancer detection center may not discover every early case of cancer. This would be especially true in cases of cancer in the harder to reach organs which can be studied only by X-ray, cutting out bits of tissue, and other more complicated methods."

LEARNING THE CHARLESTON—Dale Jackson took lessons from Mrs. George Carroll (right) in preparation for his dancing the Charleston in the Escanaba high school senior play, "A Date With Judy," which will be presented

Business Reaches Adjustment Time; Boom Days Over

By SAM DAWSON

New York, (AP)—When will the business shakedown cruise end? When can we expect to set sail for that "era of sound business" which industrial leaders are so free in predicting will follow the current recession?

The lifting of the Berlin blockade, with its promise—real or not of better days ahead, would seem to speed the embarkation. And Wall Street, at least, is making the most of present signs that the more radical revisions of the labor laws are out for this session of Congress.

But what chance do businessmen see of getting through with the realignment soon? A number have been vocal on the subject the last couple of days, and here is a summary of what most of them seem to think is the present situation and the outlook for recovery.

Some industries have had their private shakedowns already, and are set to go as soon as the rest sail into line. Others seem stubbornly refusing to see that their boom days are over and that changes must be made. And a few, still skimming along on their own momentum, have yet to learn that eager buyers are no longer ready to puff up wind for their sails.

What's going on right now, in the American economy as a whole, is called an adjustment. What it means is that many businessmen and workmen are getting hurt as the economy is jolted out of the postwar boom into the more ordinary trade course.

Those who produce the least efficiently and those who produce at the highest cost are apt to be shaken out entirely. They are the left-overs from the inflation era when costs didn't matter too much—you just added a profit to your costs, called it your price and sellers swarmed around, anyway.

A high percentage of the business failures now being recorded, Dun & Bradstreet says, is among the ranks of those who set up shop since the war without the necessary experience, or ability, or capital to make a go of it.

In the days ahead production and distribution will have to be by the firms with the lowest costs and the highest efficiency. This goes both for employers and workers.

ECKLUND FUNERAL
Funeral services will be held at 1 p. m. Wednesday at the Finnish National Lutheran church in Chatham for Emanuel Ecklund, 72, a resident of Chatham 29 years, who died Sunday. The Rev. Armas Maki will conduct the rites. Interment will be in Pine Grove cemetery, Chatham.

MUNISING BRIEFS
Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey returned to Cedar Springs, Mich., Monday after spending the week-end visiting here.

TO AVOID CUTS
Throw away cracked or badly chipped crockery and glass; wrap broken glass carefully when you throw it away so that the next handler will be forewarned; keep knives in a special rack or drawer; when using a knife always cut away from you; never open a tin can with any implement other than a can opener, especially not with a knife, as the pressure needed to open a can magnifies the danger of slipping and jabbing.

Army Reserve Lists Many Opportunities

Recently increased strength figures for the Organized Reserve Corps have opened countless new vistas of opportunity for veterans and non-veterans alike through service in the Enlisted Reserve Corps.

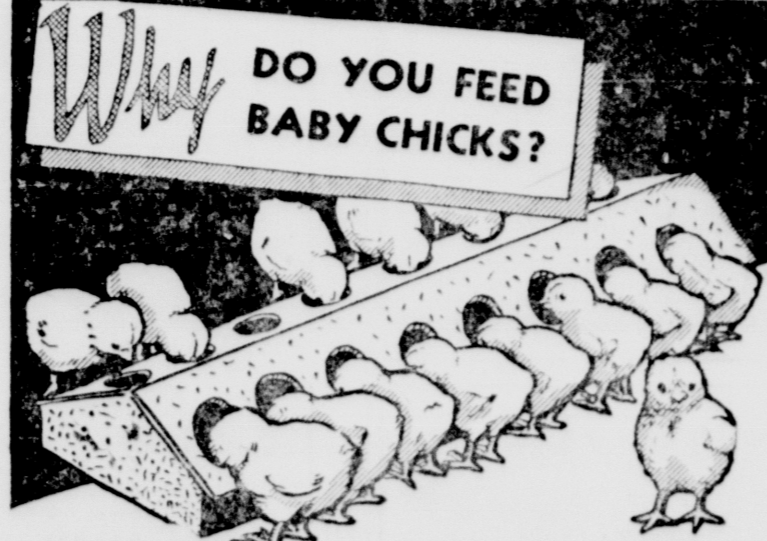

Unlike reserves of pre-World War II days, today's reservist is active in every sense of the word, even though he is a civilian 99 per cent of the time. He retains the highest grade held during his previous service; he accumulates credits towards non-disability retirement at 60 years of age after twenty years of active participation; he may, if he wishes, elect to take advantage of interesting tours of active duty ranging from 15 days to three months in duration and receive full pay and allowances for this active duty time. The commissioned ranks are open to him through application, direct appointment and Officer Candidate school. He is afforded the opportunity of attending service schools of his choice, or he may pursue extension and correspondence courses.

Information regarding the program may be obtained at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Forces Recruiting Station at 1215 Ludington street, Escanaba.

Bigger 3 Ways... DODGE gives you extra value

WIDER on the inside... NARROWER outside! There's extra value in the spread-out elbow room of the wide, wide seats. Yet the new Dodge is smaller on the outside... easy to park, easy to garage, easy to thread through crowded traffic.

LONGER on the inside... SHORTER outside! The new leg room in Dodge gives extra value in stretch-out comfort. Doors open wide, too... let you get in and out easily without squirming or twisting—and without knocking your hat off, either.

If you want extra value, you'll want DODGE!

There's extra value in Dodge beauty that flows from true functional styling... in the design that provides more head room, more leg room, more elbow room, greater vision for all passengers.

There's extra value in Dodge's Get-Away engine with its surging acceleration... its higher compression that squeezes extra miles from every gallon of gas... the smoothness of Dodge All-Fluid Drive at no extra cost.

Yes, you'll want Dodge for the extra value you get all the way from double-life hydraulic brakes and Safety-Rim Wheels, to the luxurious comfort of full-cradled ride and knee-level seats.

Add to these the Dodge reputation for dependability and economy and you'll discover why wise buyers say... "If you want extra value, you'll want Dodge."

Emily Post's "Motor Manners" Is Aid to Safety

New York, May 10 (AP)—"A gentleman will no more cheat a red light or stop sign than he would cheat in a game of cards," Emily Post speaking.

"A courteous lady will not 'scold' raucously with her automobile horn any more than she would act like a 'fishwife' at a party.

"Primitive, irresponsible, discourteous and impatient behavior behind the wheel of an automobile has no place in society. . . . 'The wellbred person will see courtesy and well-mannered human conduct in practically every traffic rule.'"

These are quotes from a traffic safety booklet, "motor manners" issued today by the National Highway Users Conference.

Mrs. Post, whose name has been synonymous with rules of etiquette for many years, wrote the pamphlet free of charge.

It's to be distributed free to individual motorists. The grateful highway users—an organization of groups such as truck drivers and the American Automobile association—tendered Mrs. Post a luncheon at the Plaza hotel this noon.

The principal speaker was Federal Works Administrator Philip B. Fleming, general chairman of the President's Highway Safety Conference. He said:

"Mrs. Post has put her unerring finger on the very heart of this whole matter of highway safety."

"Emily Post has stated the case for traffic etiquette so fully and so persuasively that it amounts to a new technique.

"She has taken a relatively minor theme in the song of safety and built it into a moving symphony that should reach millions of hearts.

"This bluebooklet of traffic etiquette will make a unique and invaluable contribution to the cause of highway safety."

COSTLY, CLAIMRotary Told To Beware
Government Proposal

Socialized medicine, like so many things heralded as "something for nothing," would be a sad and enormously expensive proposition, Harry Heffler, of Detroit, told Manistique Rotarians at their noonday luncheon Monday.

Mr. Heffler, speaking in behalf of the American Medical Society, told his listeners that the Ewing Report, which has been used as a basis for the promotion of Compulsory Health Insurance, does not bear up under analysis. Some of the information in the report, he said, is utterly without foundation, citing particularly, the suggestion that the suggested tax of four per cent on each individual to finance it would be able to carry the load. The estimate of costs given in the report, he said, was little more than guesswork.

Socialized medicine, said the speaker, would create another bureau, and perhaps the most pernicious one in existence. It would lower the standards of the medical profession and be productive of wanton waste.

The speaker was introduced by J. Joseph Herbert.

Also adding to the interest of the noon meeting was the presence of twelve high school seniors—all honor students of Manistique high school.

Miss Ann Peters, as spokesman for the group, introduced each of her classmates, telling something of their history and their plans for the future. Some members also favored those present with special numbers. Mildred Kerridge read a portion of her prize winning essay, "What Kind of an American Am I?" Delores Toyra read a humorous poem: Shirley Lawrence favored with a solo accompanied at the piano by Doris Schweikert. Members of the honor group are: Georgia Babladelis, Lavella Burns, Mildred Kerridge, Ann Peters, Patricia Frankovich, Elvora Weaver, Del Toyra, Lois Rozich, Marlene Knopf, Shirley and Dorabell Lawrence and Doris Schweikert.

Church Rededicated
Sunday Evening

Impressive services marked the rededication of St. Peter's Lutheran church Sunday evening which was favored with an unusually large attendance. The Rev. William Roepke, of Marquette, preached the dedicatory sermon, consecrating the edifice to the furtherance of Christ and His Kingdom.

Among those attending were many pastors for Upper Michigan, several coming long distances to be present.

The services were followed by a social hour at which refreshments were served.

COUNCIL HOLDS
LATE SESSIONMany Routine Matters
Disposed Of

Matters of a routine nature, few of which were at all of a controversial sort, made up a lengthy session of the Manistique city council Monday evening.

Councilmen delved into the problem of radio interference, but came to no definite conclusion other than that places of business having lights and signs which cause interference will have to remedy the cause. This source of annoyance is still a big problem the councilmen declared.

Dr. L. O. Finch asked that he be permitted to put up a neon sign at the corner of Cedar and Arbutus avenue. Permission was granted subject to approval by the city police and the city fire chief.

Councilman Otto Schubring announced that it had come to his notice that seepage of a questionable sort is flowing into Indian river, the city's source of water supply. He suggested that samples of water be taken along the river at 100 foot intervals, from Ossa Beach to the M-94 bridge and that analysis be made of same. The council took no definite action, but it was indicated that an investigation would be made.

A company from Green Bay, Wis., which specializes in repairing water towers, suggested that repairs on the outside of the local tower would be very much in order. No action was taken, but it was indicated that the matter would be investigated.

The council voted to have the light standard in front of the Manistique Lumber and Coal company office moved across the street, the company to pay half of the expense in having this done.

Recently advertised bids for a new police car brought two offers which were opened before the council. The council took no action, on the suggestion of Mayor Burns that one or two matters be cleared up before coming to a decision.

A communication from the county welfare board indicated that there had been an increase of 60 per cent in the county in the past month.

The council voted to authorize the county sanitarian and the county health physician to make a trip to Green Bay to inspect sources of supply of the Fairmont Dairy Company, which sells milk locally. The city will defray incidental expenses.

The council voted to send Justice of the Peace W. G. Stephens to Detroit to attend the annual meeting of the state municipal judges association when it meets there in June.

Application for renewal of licenses for Nelson's Cloverland Creamery, Hobolakis Dairy, Henry Miller and the Fairmont Company were all granted. These were the only applications submitted at this time.

The application of the Farmer's Implement Company for construction of a new show window in their building, formerly occupied by the Hiawatha Metal Products company, was granted; subject to approval by the city fire chief.

A petition signed by residents of the neighborhood requested a street light at the corner of Potter and Cherry streets, the petition declaring this to be "Probably the darkest corner in Manistique." The council promptly voted that the light be installed.

A permit to build a 16x32 structure for office purposes on Oak street, was granted the Franklin Forest Products Company.

The matter of using the tourist information building on Triangle Square for broadcasting purposes was discussed and the council decided that the management of Station WMAZ be asked by what authority they are using the building for their broadcasting programs, members of the council disclaiming that they had given any such privilege.

The council voted to add another member to the police force. Councilman George Stephens cast a dissenting vote.

The concert time will be divided between the band, the high school glee club and the girls' ensemble. Miss Shirley Lawrence will be featured as soloist for the evening.

Chemical Weeding
Of Strawberries
Saves Labor Cost

The weed killing chemical 2,4-D, if properly used, can save expensive hand labor in weeding strawberries, reports R. F. Carlson, Department of Horticulture, Michigan State College.

It is still important to prepare land thoroughly before setting plants. Land intended for strawberries should be used for a cultivated crop the previous season. In this way many weeds are destroyed before strawberries are set.

Even with the best preparation, hand weeding has been an expensive necessary operation. Now, a 2,4-D spray, if used right, will control many of the troublesome weeds in first year plantings. It must not be used on second year plantings because of injury to blossoms.

Application of 2,4-D should be about two weeks after plants are set or when the weeds emerge. At that time weeds are killed by very small quantities of 2,4-D. One quarter of a pint of 40 percent solution, or one fourth to one half pound of the acid per acre is enough to eliminate many of the weeds. Ten gallons of 2,4-D water solution per acre is enough to contact the weeds with minimum wetting of the strawberry plants. The soil should be left undisturbed until further cultivation is required. Working the soil immediately after application will destroy the effects of the chemical.

The same rates of 2,4-D used for strawberries can be used to

Fashion-Wise
You!

Your make-up has taken on new importance with the radical changes in the fashion picture.

This year's make-up shades, this year's complexion care programs are as new and different as this year's clothes.

That's why we believe you will like being our guest during Cara Nome Beauty Week at one of the group consultations with our Cara Nome specialist. She comes to us directly from America's fashion and beauty centers, sparkling with new ideas. Besides, she is highly trained in teaching correct complexion care and make-up.

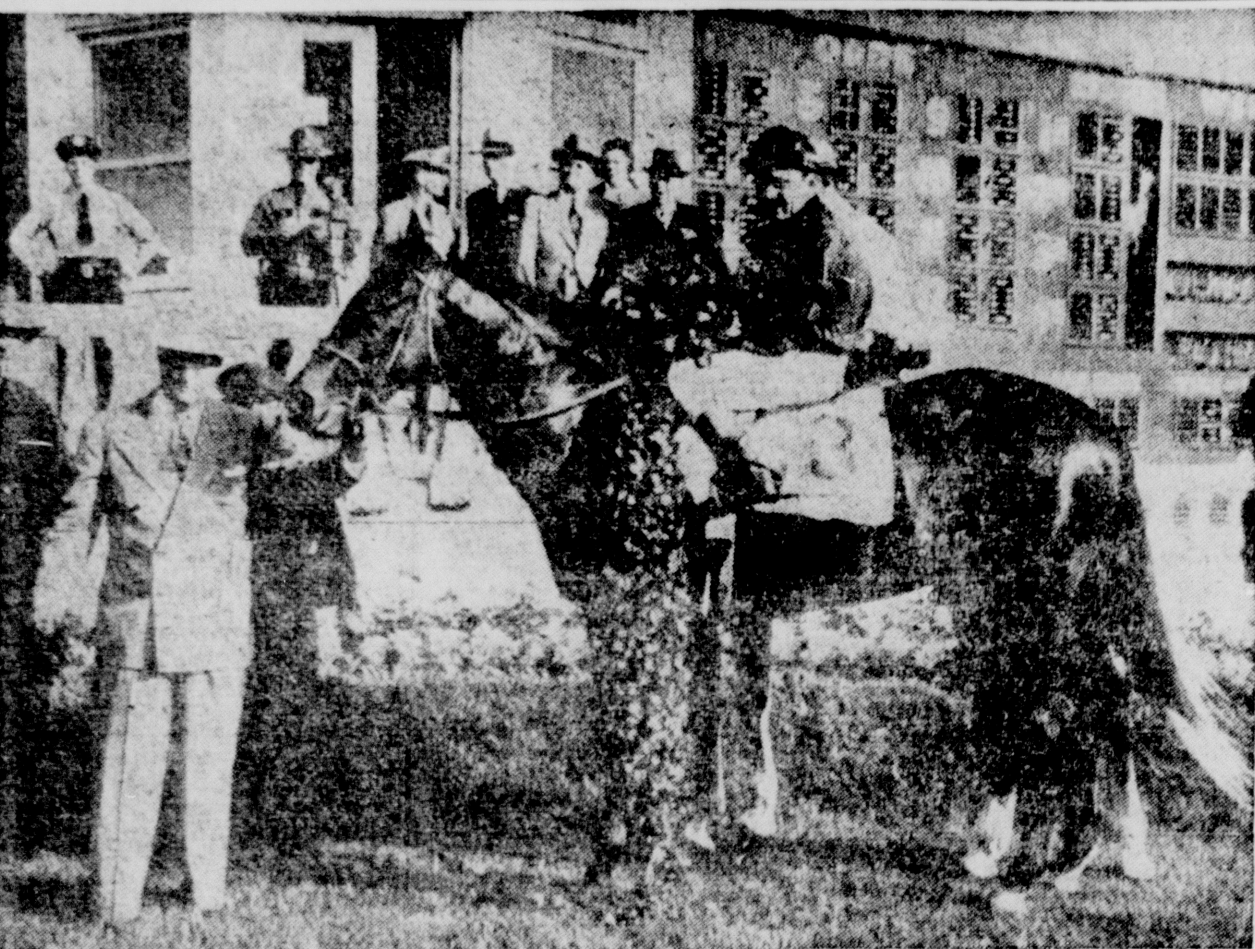

She will talk with you informally about your special complexion problems, outline, if you like, a program of daily skin care for you, help you select flattering make-up tints, and give you many suggestions for applying your make-up to give the smart new look. Right there you may "try on" different tints and see for yourself the amazing difference make-up can effect.

We have personally engaged the Cara Nome Specialist and are happy to offer you this service with no charge or obligation on your part.

Preakness Shaps Up As Tight Race

Baltimore, May 10 (AP)—The makings of a tight horse race for Saturday's Preakness is at Old Pimlico today.

Detroit's Sid Abel Is 'Most Valuable' Player In The NHL

Montreal, May 10 (AP)—Sid Abel, 31-year-old captain of the Detroit Red Wings' champion team, was named today the "most valuable player" of the 1948-49 National Hockey league season.

The veteran center, whose 28 goals led the circuit, was voted the Hart trophy, which carries with it a $1,000 cash award. The trophy was awarded on a vote of 18 sport writers and radio broadcasters, three from each NHL city.

Abel, who has been playing professional hockey 11 years, won in a close race with Bill Durnan, Montreal Canadiens' goal keeper who was awarded the Vezina trophy for outstanding defensive work during the past campaign.

The Detroit veteran scored 43 points compared with 36 for Durnan. Nobody else was close.

Roy Conacher of Chicago was third with five points and three players tied with four—Ted Lindsay of Detroit, Paul Ronty of Boston and Doug Bentley of Chicago.

A bearcat for work, the Red Wing center made the league all-star team. He had 28 goals and 26 assists for 54 points. That made him one of the leading scorers. He also is a top defensive man.

He was a member—playing left wing at the time—of Detroit's previous championship team in 1942-43.

The cream from the Kentucky Derby is on the grounds ready for the second leg on the triple crown.

Five of the 14 starters at Louisville have arrived and they're enough to assure a crack field for the Preakness.

Only the best came up from Kentucky. They were the first four and seventh colts across the derby line. All that remains now is for the outsiders to come in and determine the size of the field. The best guess now is that it will be around ten.

Each starter will throw another $2,000 into the overall pot, which now stands at $101,870.

The train from Louisville today brought in Calumet Farm's derby winner, Ponder, second place Capot, and Model Cadet, the seventh finisher last Saturday. They joined Palestinian, the derby show colt and fourth place Old Rockport, both of which arrived yesterday.

Trainer Hirsch Jacobs promptly announced a change of riders for Palestinian. He hired Eddie Arcaro to make the Preakness ride. Headley Woodhouse was up on Palestinian in the derby.

Arcaro was left without a mount when Fred Hooper decided not to run Olympia in the Preakness after his third Preakness victory.

But a new pacesetter to replace Olympia may have been found yesterday in Noble Impulse. The Crispin Ogley colt demanded consideration by setting a new Pimlico track record for a mile and a sixteenth in the survivor stakes. That's two sixteenths short of the Preakness distance.

Noble Impulse was clocked at 1:42, two fifths of a second better than the old record, and he did it while winning by five lengths. Trainer J. P. Jones said afterwards Noble Impulse would start Saturday if the track is fast.

HITS STRIDE—Ted Gray, Detroit hurler, hit his stride yesterday to beat Vic Raschi and the New York Yankees, 4-1, and boost the surprising Tigers into second place in the American league chase.

Tigers In Second On Gray's 4 To 1 Win Over Yankees

Detroit, May 10 (AP)—The surprising Detroit Tigers, sole possessors of second place in the American League race, called on Hal Newhouse today to protect their runnerup status.

Newhouse was paired against the Yankees' Allie Reynolds in the third and deciding game of the New York-Detroit series.

Ted Gray, young lefthander of the Bengals, gave Newhouse a mark to shoot at as he beat the Yankees 4-1 yesterday for his second straight win of the season. That victory moved the Tigers ahead of Cleveland which was idle yesterday.

Gray was working under a double handicap, he was up against Vic Raschi, who was the League's leading pitcher with a 4-0 mark and the Yankees were in a hitting mood after pounding out 17 hits in a 12-0 whitewash of the Tigers Sunday.

But Gray turned in a nifty performance, giving the Yankee sluggers only five hits. He allowed only one walk and fanned two. The Yankees showed their only concerted hitting in the second inning as they jumped off to a 1-0 lead on Johnny Lindell's single and Jack Phillips' triple.

The Tigers got right back into the ball game in their half of the second inning with Dick Wakefield showing the way.

Wakefield led off in the inning by slamming Raschi's first pitch into the right field stands for his second homer of the season.

With one away, Rookie outfielder Johnny Groth walked. George Vico flied out, but Ted Gray kept the rally going by singling sharply to right, sending Groth to third. Eddie Lake drew a walk to load the bases and Johnny Lipon singled to drive in two runs and make it a 3-1 game.

The Tigers got their other run in the sixth as George Kell led off with a double. Vic Wertz grounded out, but Raschi walked Wakefield and Aaron Robinson in succession to load the bases. Groth drove a long fly to center, scoring Kell with the final run of the day.

Kell with a single and double led the Tiger hitters, while Vic Wertz turned in a couple of nifty catches in the field. One of Wertz's best catches of the year came in the sixth when Hank Bauer drove a long ball to right centerfield. Wertz caught the ball just as he bounced off the screen, but he held the ball.

That kind of support was all Gray needed and he stilled the Yankee bats the rest of the way to protect his second win.

All Gravelle-Schneller Blasts Except One Hold In U. P. Pin Go

All individual scores except one in that amazing hot spree staged by Escanaba's Eddy Gravelle and Greg Schneller two weekends ago stood up as the 39th annual U. P. Bowling association tournament came to a close Sunday.

They literally took the standings apart in all four events—just about as hot a spree as the U. P. pin meet has ever seen—and in only one case did the final weekend of firing displace their hot individual scores. And that was a 639 by Armas Nurni of Bessemer, that dropped Gravelle's 635 to fourth instead of third. Schneller held his ground with his 643 as Nurni slipped into second.

Paced by Herb Cain's 612, the Iron Mountain Milano Bar, hit 2842 to slip into first place, 10 pins ahead of Escanaba's L. & R Sports. Pete Canuso with 596 and Lou Ferzacca with 576 were other Milano pacesetters.

Other Iron Mountain thrusters in the windup were Harveys' 2784 good for fourth place and Benso's 2771, good for fifth.

J. Walter Vandeweghe, active Gladstone bowling secretary, helped himself mightily by compiling a 1787 all-events that was good for fourth spot behind—yep, Schneller and Gravelle, and Len Maki, of Ishpeming.

A 1232 by Barney Bowerman and J. Bokrus, of Munising, stood up for first place in doubles. Schneller and Gravelle were only a shade away at 1221. Bowerman was U. P. singles champion 10 years ago.

A Gladstone pair accounted for one major change in the doubles standings in the final weekend. W. Johnson and H. Van Mill, of Gladstone, posted 1187 for sixth place. And in the singles, Allan Gillis, Gladstone, hit 633 to tie for fifth.

The 1950 U. P. bowling tournament will be held in Escanaba. Final standings follow:

New Escanaba Army Reserve Unit Meets Here Tomorrow Night

The newly organized 5331st post, camp or station training complement of the U. S. Army Reserve corps will meet in the city hall council chambers at 8 o'clock tomorrow night, Major Robert E. LeMire, the unit's commanding officer, reports.

The organization will meet for the purpose of assigning personnel and complete formation of the staff.

Its mission is to provide a nucleus of trained personnel to enable the Army to expand existing Army posts and camps and begin operation quickly of new posts and camps throughout the country in case of another national emergency.

The new Escanaba unit succeeds the inactivated 1114th organized reserve composite group which was commanded by Lt. Col. Loren W. Jenkins, who has retired to the honorary reserve.

In order to complete organization of the 5331st as soon as possible, Major LeMire urges all personnel of the Army Reserve corps in this area to attend the meeting tomorrow night. Members are asked to bring potential members with them.

Four City Bankers To Attend Meeting

Carl Nelson and Arne Maki of the First National Bank, William Warmington of the State Bank of Escanaba, and E. L. Moersch of the Escanaba National Bank will attend the executive meeting of group one of the Michigan Bankers association in Marquette Sunday.

Horace F. Conklin, president of the association; H. A. Kellow of South Range, chairman of the committee; William Cudlip, of Detroit, general counsel of the association; Ray Brundage of Lansing, executive manager; E. L. Pearce of Marquette; W. E. Powers of Detroit; Melvin Lanphar of Romeo; J. A. Schnackenberg of Grand Rapids and Earl Closser of Marquette are among the men who will speak and participate in panel discussions.

Truman Tells How To Feel Good at 65; Hard Work Credited

Washington, D. C., (AP)—President Truman has his own explanation for feeling so healthy at age 65: "I've had to work so hard all my life I've never had time to get into mischief."

The presidential quote was given Sunday to Dr. Edward Hughes Pruden, pastor of the First Baptist church. It was Mr. Truman's response to Dr. Pruden's expressed hope that "I will be as full of vim and vigor as you are when I reach my 65th birthday."

Sunday was an especially big day for Mr. Truman. It was Mother's Day, his own birthday and the fourth anniversary of his formal announcement of the end of the war in Europe.

However, aside from attending church, Mr. Truman made no particular occasion of the day. Some of the flowers in the church were in memory of Mr. Truman's mother, who died in 1947.

Stephenson and A. A. Borsum of Newberry.

TALKS TONIGHT—Dr. Robert E. Ward will speak on the University of Michigan series at the Escanaba junior high school music room at 7:30 tonight. His topic will be: "The Situation in the Far East."

Radio Station Will Move to Iron River

Iron River.—Transfer of radio station WIKB from Iron Mountain to Iron River is sought in an application on file with the Federal Communications Commission, in Washington, D. C., by the Upper Peninsula-Wisconsin Broadcasting Company, Inc.

Announcement of the proposed transfer was made by J. W. Huss, of Ironwood, vice-president and general manager of the company who has been in the city for a week.

The application calls for the transfer of the entire WIKB set-up, which would retain its call letters and frequency. Huss said that when the transfer is approved, the company will construct a studio, transmitter building and tower.

Huss said the building program will be started as soon as the permit from FCC is forthcoming. The company is now seeking sites for the studio and tower.

WIKB started broadcasting from the Dickinson hotel in Iron Mountain on Oct. 20, 1946.
